How do I donate books?

Anyone can share books in local Little Free Library book-sharing boxes! Use Little Free Library's world map, available in our mobile app or on our website, to find little libraries near you. Then, visit the library of your choice and leave some books inside. If you're using our mobile app, be sure to check in so you can track which libraries you've visited and how many books you've shared. It's that easy!

Please be respectful, though, and don't cram books in a library that's already full. Speak with the homeowner or business owner where the library is installed if you're not sure if it's OK to leave books.
