Nancy	Close	1626	7208 Kananaskis Drive SW		Calgary	AB		Cheri Macaulay in Calgary, chose a Little Free Library as of her www.3thingsforcalgary.ca to make Calgary even better! And, it took off in a big way! Two years ago, my perfectionist husband gifted me one for my birthday, and my daughter painted it right away! And, then I waited... :-) It was finally installed today! I am beyond excited. Our first book was taken within minutes, by these wonderful neighbour kids up the street in exchange for two of their lovely novels.
Carolyn	Fisher	5928	1531 21 Avenue NW		Calgary	AB		This Little free library is located at the Capitol Hill Park. Built at a workshop hosted by Councillor Druh Farrell, this little free library was designed and painted by community resident and illustrator Carolyn Fisher. It is a small addition to the revitalization of this inner city park and is maintained by the Capitol Hill Community Association.
Joe	Starkman	5926	28 Sterling Spring Cres		Calgary	AB		We assisted one of the local city Councillors in constructing 30 LFL for Calgary communities. This is one of them.
Kathi	Harrison	12634	15 Strathdale Close SW		Calgary	AB		From the yearly book fair, to frequent trips to the local library we have always been aware of Kathi's love of reading. For her most recent birthday we bought her this little library so that she could share her love of books, learning, and adventure with others in our neighborhood. We love you more than you love books Mom.
DEAN	CARTER	13502	124 Silver Mead Cr. NW		Calgary	AB	Carson Carter, Master Builder	We love our neighbourhood and we love books! So much fun!
Alison	Laberge	9740	56 Windermere Road SW		Calgary	AB		This Little Free Library was given to me as a birthday gift from my husband.
K.	Poniecki	9744	3611 Chippendale Drive NW		Calgary	AB
Karen	Anderson	15352	141 Gloucester Cres. S.W.		Calgary	AB		We decided to build a Little Free Library as a way to connect with our community of Giamorgan! We have a range of books for readers from 0 to 99 years of age. Drop by, take a book, leave a book. Have fun!
Pamela	Nic Gil Ean	15469	502 7 Avenue North-East		Calgary	AB		This Little Free Library was a present to Anne and Rachel during Christmas 2013. They painted it in faux art style to complement the century-old neighbourhood where it is located. Almost immediately, it became a local feature with many nearby residents borrowing and donating books.
Angela	Wiseman	15521	243052, Range Road 281	SW-24-24-28-W4M	Calgary	AB	Arlene Carol Magee	A friend of mine in Calgary built a little free library and I decided to start one in our area - even though we are in a rural location. We are pretty close to Chestermere, Alberta and I am hoping I can generate enough interest in that community to keep our LFL vital. I have flyers and so on to distribute - maybe we can even get into the Rocky View County newspaper - LOL. This little library is special because my father built it for me. It's a wonderful thing to share books and reading. My mother taught me the love of a good story and this wee lighthouse on the prairie is dedicated to her memory.
Susan	Samson	10243	#338 Marina Bay Place		Sylvan Lake	AB
Maureen	Fiebich	15361	54 Avenue 49 Street		Barrhead	AB		The first "Little Free Library" in Barrhead located at the Rotary Splash Park. A great way to promote literacy in our community by Communities for Children. The focus is on children's books so if you have books in good condition to donate or wish to read one please visit this free library near you! Communities For Children plans to expand the Little Free Libraries to other areas. A great way to share books! Thanks to Herb Kopp for doing a great job on building this one. Come join the Communities For Children coalition and be part of great things in our community.
Marley	Hamlett	15486	4500 Caravelle Ct.		Anchorage	AK		Marley is an avid reader and this library was made from reclaimed materials for her 9th birthday present. She loves to check the library and share her favorites.
John	DeCherney	11903	3195 Pioneer Ave		Juneau	AK		This Little Free Library celebrates John's birthday. He loves to read and looks forward to sharing books with everyone in the neighborhood. He also loves dogs, and neighbor dogs will find treats in the Library too. The Library will be seasonal, coming indoors after the first snowfall until the next spring, since it is situated next to the street and might get plowed in.

Craig	Holmes	14774	4121 Ursa Cir.		Anchorage	AK		4121 Ursa Circle ~~~ I enjoy reading science fiction books, an interest that captivated me when I was young. A good book is a great adventure and can be revisited many times. My Library is a miniature version of the playhouse I built for my children many years ago.
ingrid	everson	15884	2301 Hiland Road		Eagle River	AK		Hiland Road is somewhat isolated in Alaska, so we wanted to make books available to others who might not be able to always get to town. Also, we know there are young children living in this area, and we hope they will find some books they will enjoy reading.
Eileen	Demain	16375	Allergy Asthma & Immunology Center of Al	3841 Piper Street, Suite T4-054	Anchorage	AK		We bought this "Tree" Bookcase at an auction benefiting a wonderful local K-8th grade school. We knew that we wanted to make a lending library for our patients but were not sure how to begin. We did a Google search and discovered the Little Free Library. It was a perfect fit! We launched our little library, and are proud to be a part of the Little Free Library world family.
vedra	Bechtol	15475	7622 E. 20th		Anchorage	AK		My amazing husband gave this to me for mothers day. Have been wanting one for years!!
Betsy	Estopinal	6030	Little Green Store Parking Lot	820 Monte Sano Blvd	Huntsville	AL	Honor of Noel Estopinal	For the Monte Sano Mountain Community to enjoy childrens and adult books! And to discuss the books at every opportunity.
Sarah	Malone	9244	6825 Barnes Rd.		Theodore	AL		This library was created through the kindness of others and will hopefully serve to make an impact in the lives of the children and adults throughout the neighborhood.
Mike	Self	15434	601 Clinton Ave., E.		Huntsville	AL	Given to Providence Classical School	Providance Classical is a new school to our neighborhood, but are in a school built in 1938 and on the National Historic Register. Are great stewards of the building, great neighbors and this LFL is a gift to them for being such great stewards of the building and for promoting the love of reading and books!
Greene Co. Community Fund -	GCCF	15756	2709 W. Kingshighway	P.O. Box 252	Paragould	AR		Our Little Free Library is collaborative effort between Swirz of Paragould and the Greene County Community Fund. Our library is unique because it's indoors at Swirz of Paragould. Residents can visit Swirz and enjoy yogurt while utilizing the Little Free Library. The library has a wide variety of books available to residents of all ages. It is our goal to promote positive, community involvement to the residents of our community. We invite you to visit our library and get involved!
Carol	Ruscin	11327	9 Willow Oak Court		Little Rock	AR	all neighbors who love to read	Over a year ago as I was reading the local paper in Denver, CO there was an article able to little free library and how it builds community. As I walked the Park Hill neighborhood in Denver I noticed these little houses began to pop up. I moved in May 2013 back to Little Rock, AR and i committed myself to having one of these in my new neighborhood to support the spirit of community and foster reading, even though I am not the bookworm I would like to be I love to share and be community focused.
Nedra	Forrest	687	1708 N Walnut Ave		Fayetteville	AR	Bernice Payne	This library is dedicated to my mother-in-law Bernice who always loved to read. We learned about this library project several years back but it took us quite a while to get it together. It is awesome to see how much it has been used already!

Rebecca	Mahoney	8492	35Charles St	Baulkham Hills	Sydney	Australia, New South Wales	All teachers and parents, including my own, who open up the world to children by teaching and encouraging reading!	Our Little Free Library attracts readers of all ages, backgrounds and nationalities. People tell us they plan their walks to pass by and return or borrow a book. We especially like visits from the person who always tidies the books - you are very welcome, whoever you are! It unfailingly engenders a positive response from people.

Jennifer	Andrews	12399	910 Dolphin Sands Road		Swansea	Australia, Tasmania		We live on a 9 mile beach on the East coast of the island state of Tasmania. Our public library is in a small town 15mins drive away and only open 2 days a week. We have many holiday visitors to their shacks or from mainland Australia and overseas. Already our Little Free Library is being used on a very regular basis. We try and keep it stocked with good books for adults and children, most of which come from our own bookshelves to make way for more!

Shelby	Entner	14330	1805-32nd Avenue		Vernon	BC		We first saw a LFL on a camping trip and heard about it in a magazine. Our family loves to read and we all love having a good book to curl up with on the couch. We live on a busy street and have a lot of people walking by our historic (and in the middle of a reno) home so we hope people stop to have a look at a book and chat with us :)
Evan	Schwab	16232	16170 86B Avenue		Surrey	BC		We live near a school and so many kids pass by each day I thought I would add a bit of whimsy to their commute.
Theresa	Marion	12930	1023 Pacific Street		Vancouver	BC		Coming soon. This Little Free Library will be located in front of Pacific Heights Housing Co-op (PHHC) on Pacific Street in Vancouver. Go to phhc.ca/lfl for updates on our grand-opening ribbon-cutting ceremony, mid to late August 2014. Funded in part by a Greenest City Neighbourhood Small Grant program administered through Gordon Neighbourhood House, the City of Vancouver and the Vancouver Foundation. It is a three-level structure, with the bottom level reserved for kids books. Designed and built by PHHC member Ted Cole, a theatre actor who is a carpenter in his spare time.

Manon	Billiet	13694	Hertsvelde West 11		Sint-Andries	Belgium		I came up with the idea of a Little Free Library in our street because I know many people here (especially women) like to read. We recommend and lend books to each other. I also love the idea of sharing things with each other. My husband made the library all by himself. He painted it yellow and green, the Brazilian Fifa World Cup colours :-). A lot of people from other streets pass by here while jogging or walking with their dog, we intend to reach them too.
Johan	Redant	16108	Dijkstraat 105		Dessel	Belgium, Antwerp		In our street in Dessel Belgium two families had the same idea without knowing each other. In about a few weeks time we placed two Little Free Library's in our neighbourhood and we became friends. Now the exciting news about the two library's is spreading slowly in town and other people get interested and that's amazing because there are not many Little Free Library's in Belgium.

Melissa	Campos	13456	3265 Ingledeale a Terrace		Los Angeles	Ca	Melinda Campos	The LFL is in memory of my twin sister, Melinda, who we lost to clear-cell carcinoma last summer. My dad, a former Math professor, instilled such a love of reading in us that we were going through Alexandre Dumas novels (The 3 Musketeers & The Count of Monte Cristo) and Edgar Rice Burroughs pulps (Tarzan of the Apes & John Carter of Mars) before we were 10 years old. (Dickens, however, was a dismal failure with us.) instead of donating the books to the local library or Goodwill, we thought she might appreciate the idea of having her own library on our front yard. (Melinda was a cataloguer at the downtown Law Library before she retired in November 2012.) The theme of the library is based on her love of Asian art and culture. She even ran an Internet bazaar for a few years that sold things like fortune teller fish, snuff bottles and finger traps. The LFL is called Mr. ping's Book Emporium after an online character from the store who specialized in arcane topics such as the purpose of "scholar rocks" or the farming of bamboo rats in Congjiang. We think it would have amused and pleased her to have such a library.

Don	Taylor	14141	2680 San Marcos Ave		San Diego	CA		We had noticed Little Free Libraries around and had helped ourselves once, and then the Rotarian (a magazine for members of Rotary International) had a substantial article on history of the Little Free Library. My challenge was to build an accessible box which would withstand a heavy rain... so far, so good! So far, without being officially "on the map", we have found a great balance between arrival and departure books.

Richard	Albistegui-DuBois	15220	573 Beaumont Dr.	(Bus stop at corner of Beaumont & E	Vista	CA		Our house is right across the street from the local elementary school. When we bought the house, the bus stop on the corner (on our property) was dilapidated, overgrown, with a disintegrating bench. We've been working on improving it, and one of the items on our list from the beginning was the addition of a Little Free Library. My wife and I are big readers, and we feel strongly about encouraging reading in children, so having this available for kids and parents taking the bus to and from the school seemed like a perfect opportunity. Thus, we have both adult and children's literature, in English and Spanish. My wife and I both read a lot of science fiction and fantasy, so that has a large representation in the initial stock. The library is constructed from a self-made plan using recycled plywood, furring boards, and molding. The front window is acrylic. My kids painted the sign on top.

This Little Free Library (LFL) #0888 was moved to a new location in Visalia California. Lennar Homes is hoping a free community library will encourage reading and neighborhood interaction in its Valley developments. Lennar is installing nearly twenty "Little Free Libraries" in select Valley communities to encourage children and adults to read and to promote a neighborly community. The libraries are small painted boxes, located in front of the model home centers that are filled with teen-adult and children's books. It's part of a worldwide campaign to promote literacy while building a sense of community. This particular LFL is hand-painted and features a barn with lots of barnyard animals and farm-fresh fruits and veggies, all grown in the area. Lennar has installed several other LFL's to date with plans for many more. The national new home builder has also donated LFL's to the Ronald McDonald Houses in Madera and Bakersfield. Lennar is proud to sponsor and donate these Little Free Library boxes to their new home neighborhoods throughout the Central San Joaquin Valley and have received a great positive response. Book drives are held periodically by the Lennar Associates in the division. The donated books are used to help stock the LFL's placed by Lennar. It's a team effort and Lennar Central Valley is honored to be a part of this literacy movement.

The libraries are small painted boxes, located in front of the model home centers that are filled with teen-adult and children's books. It's part of a worldwide campaign to promote literacy while building a sense of community. This particular LFL is hand-painted with clapboard siding that reminds one of early homes build in the area during the 1920's through the 1940's. Lennar has installed several other LFL's to date with plans for even more. The national new home builder has also donated LFL's to the Ronald McDonald Houses in Madera and Bakersfield. Lennar is proud to sponsor and donate these Little Free Library boxes to their new home neighborhoods throughout the Central San Joaquin Valley and have received a great positive response. Book drives are held periodically by the Lennar Associates in the division. The donated books are used to help stock the LFL's placed by Lennar. It's a team effort and Lennar Central Valley is honored to be a part of this literacy movement.
Betty	Hedegard	13870	420 Central Avenue (at Central Park)		Salinas	CA		I began this project with the Friends of the Little Library who had money donated to them from a project called The Big Idea from the Monterey County Weekly. Soon we were joined by four young business people from the Leadership Salinas Class XXXII. Our goal is put Little Libraries in parks in Salinas and I am the steward for the one here in Central Park in Salinas! Today we had our Grand Opening with community members, our councilman's representative, children, library and parks people
Jane	Orzel	13873	1700 McKinnon Street (McKinnon Park)		Salinas	CA		I am the steward of the McKinnon Park Little Library. The Friends of the Salinas Public Library worked with me and the Leadership Salinas Valley Class XXXII of the Chamber of Commerce to help get this Little Library open/ We had a Grand Opening yesterday, one of three opened in parks in Salinas yesterday.
Bruce	Anderson	5945	1380 Meadow Court		Livermore	CA	Mom & Dad	Yikes, appears that an elf has taken up residency in our library! Sounds like I gotta' find a copy of Elf On The Shelf. Roughly 75 books have gone out, 35-ish returned, and 14-ish donated by neighbors over the past ten months.
Laura	Caster	7947	23085 Pine Needles Lane		Idyllwild	CA		My desire to open a Little Free Library started when I first learned about it from an article I read online. The more I thought about it, the more I knew that I needed to do it. Although it took some time to go from dream to reality, I am thrilled that I have been successful in making it happen. A grant from Colorado State University - Global Campus paid for the library itself and our friend and fellow PCPOA board member, Richard Schwartz, installed it. The Pine Cove Property Owners Association is a supporter of this effort and plans to install more in our small town.

Jarrod	Fischer	13921	3225 3rd Ave		Sacramento	CA		My daughters and I are proud to have made this library together. They painted it and put some flowers in front of it (with more planting to come, I'm sure!). Our library was an old abandoned Village Voice newspaper box in front of our favorite local cafe. It had basically just become a trash receptacle...so we asked if we could take it and make something useful from it, and--voila!--a Little Free Library was born. We live in a vibrant, urban, diverse neighborhood, and we have lots of foot traffic and lots of kids. Within two hours of putting up the library, we had at least 8 kids come by and borrow or swap books. We also have "books for grown-ups," so everyone will hopefully find something to enjoy! (My wife and I love to read and we tend to accumulate books, whether we mean to or not!). We hope this Little Free Library will be a benefit to our neighborhood and help encourage a lifelong love of reading. We look forward to seeing you!
Kyra	DeBiaso	14466	3754 Vista Drive		Soquel	CA		My dad, David Jorgensen, built the Little Free Library for me at my request - what a sweet, indulgent dad! He built it almost exclusively from found and recycled materials. My husband, Frank, sank the post and the two of them mounted it together on Mother's Day, 2014. My two sons help me find books and help keep it stocked.

Alex	Clemens	14612	308 Lina		Alameda	CA	Casey Rose and Benjy	We saw a Little Free Library in our neighborhood, and were charmed. As lovers of reading and owners of many books - including many duplicate books for babies and children - we wanted to share our bounty with our friends and neighbors. The Little Free Library is the perfect vehicle to make this happen.

Ms.	Sullivan	14757	3045 Granada Ave.		San Diego	CA	Ms. Christine's Third Grade Class 2013-14	Building a little free library was our end-of-the year project in third grade. My 22 students measured, sanded and stained this box. As a class we decided to fill the library with books for children ages 0-10. We even published our own book of poems and placed it in the Library. Kudos to the children of High Tech Elementary- your library is beautiful and ready to be used by lots of young readers in North Park. Don't forget to take a book and leave a book! I am so proud that you have helped to spread the joy of reading in San Diego.
Pamela Marie	Jungerberg	9547	2830 Ribera Road		Carmel	CA		Ever since I stopped working in a public library, I've missed sharing my love of books and reading. So my sweet husband, Steven, surprised me with this LFL. Such a wonderful gift! I love it. Our neighbors love it. And people who pass by on their way home from the beach love it!
Adella	Lujan	15468	EL Gabilan Park on Toro Street		Salinas	CA		My husband, Moses Lujan, built this special Little Library for the children of Toro Street and the surrounding streets. I am a local school board member and I know our children need materials to practice their reading, especially in the summer. This Little Library is a project that brings the community together, as well as providing reading materials for the children!

Ione	Lollar	9669	729 Mannel Avenue		Shafter	CA		As a part of the Wendy's Words Libraries, ours is the first in Shafter, CA. Built as an Eagle Scout project, painted by my daughter-in-law and stocked with books thanks to my daughter and son-in-law, Susan Reep and Bernadette Ferguson, students and parents enjoy the library as they walk to and from the elementary school just up the street. It has been interesting to see which books are chosen and which languish. I enjoy my steward's duty each day. While the library is stocked with children and adult books, it is the children's ones that go. We have had no headaches with the library. It is a pleasure.

Lee	Miller	11726	369 Diana St.		Placerville	CA	Robert and Jackie Vreeken	My husband and Sister in law are readers. Julia	Parnell	14715	2146 8th Street		Livermore	CA		Built out of 100-year-old boards from a fence on our property, our library has one shelf for kid's books, and one for grown-up books. We also occasionally add small items for kids such as sidewalk chalk, bubbles, or stickers, and we're always happy to see these in use around the neighborhood. We recently added a chicken-wire magazine rack (in keeping with the...rustic style of the cabinet), and a metal wire basket below to hold lemons, plums, or whatever ripe fruit or vegetables we have on hand from our trees or our neighbors'. We've met a lot of people in our neighborhood as they stop by to check out the LFL, and we've been very excited to find a lot of books and magazines coming and going already.
Nicole	Popel	15514	823 Romero Court		Walnut	CA		I wanted to have the first Little Free Library in Walnut, California. Using several differently sized books as a guide, my husband, Mark, designed, built, and installed the library during the Fourth of July weekend (2014). Within the first day it opened, people have been peeking inside and taking out books. Our library matches the style and paint of our home, and is under a shady tree beside the sidewalk. We welcome everyone everywhere to share the joy of reading.

Christopher	Strika	15418	2701 Prospect Park Dr.		Rancho Cordova	CA		Our Free Little Library story begins with our mission: "To spark a passion for life long learning". We are the Sacramento Children's Museum and our goal is to inspire children and their parents to learn while having fun. The museum has many programs and several exhibits that are specifically designed to help develop early childhood literacy and the Little Free Library is a natural fit. Our Free Little Library's inclusion at the museum was at the request of the Aian & Michele Godlove, and significant quantity of books have been donated by Sharon Stone Smith and the Godlove's. The Free Little Library's availability is limited the museums operating hours, Tuesday-Saturday 9:00 am to 5:00 pm, Sundays 12:00-5:00 pm. We are excited to be a part of the Little Free Library family.
Debbie	Shields	14001	1617 Branch Avenue		Simi Valley	CA		I first heard about Little Free Library in 2010 and we decided to participate once we were both retired. As you can see we are now retired and have finally joined in the fun. My passion for reading began as a very young child as I learned to read at age three. Books have always been an important part of my life and I and wanted to share my love of books with others. We have people of all ages who walk in our neighborhood. We wanted to provide a place for them to sit and rest. We hope they take advantage and the opportunity to choose from our selection of books. Our Library opened on July 4, 2014 and we have had many visitors stop by to check it out. It has been fun visiting with and getting to know the people in our neighborhood.
Kathy	Marquez	5443	1381 N. Dominion Ave.		Pasadena	CA	Anne Heather	After seeing a article about Little Free Libraries in the Los Angeles Times, I was enchanted by the idea, and started dragging an old bookshelf out to the front yard every morning during my summer break. When school began in the fall, this routine quickly lost its charm. My girls pooled their funds and bought me a library for my birthday. It has taken over a year to accomplish, but it has been installed at last! In it, you will find books for early childhood, older kids, and adults...the selection will be highly eclectic!
Friends of	Ivanhoe	12072	2828 Herkimer Street		Los Angeles	CA		2 parents set up this library as well as a reading bench in the shade for the local elementary students, parents and nearby residents alike. Students and parents check out the offerings daily on their way to and from school. We typically have books for all ages from very young book lovers to adult readers. The graduating 5th grade class made bookmarks for the library and left some reading recommendations upon graduation.

Julie	Cason	10206	198 Chaparral Road		Carmel Valley	CA	Joan Cason, my mama	My mother taught me to read when I was 3 (to keep me out of mischief!) and took me to the local library every week until I was old enough to ride my bike there. I'd come home with armfuls of books. I was an English lit major in college, and then had an editorial career that spanned more than two decades. Many years, I got to read hundreds of children's books to find candidates to license for reading anthologies. (Lucky me!) So, suffice to say that I love, love, love books and wish to promote them. Also, if I kept every book I ever read, I'd need a mansion, so the LFL helps me have a smaller footprint on the planet.
Carousel	Ranch	16328	34289 Rocking Horse Road		Santa Clarita	CA	Dad	Carousel Ranch is dedicated to providing equestrian therapy to disabled children. We love to see kids (and adults!) with books in their hands, so we love Little Free Library!

Took a look at this website and immediately decided I wanted to build one. Love books, my mom is a librarian and my daughter is learning about sharing. Live in an apartment, so the typical one on a mailbox post in the yard wasn't going to work, so I'm using the bike rack and a box on the back of a bicycle. Hope the community enjoys it. There are comics, board books, children books, adult books, young adult books, and Spanish, Chinese, and Korean books. Dmitry	Estrin	14436	842 E. Villa Street		Pasadena	CA		Little Free Library thrives at Villa Gardens "Take a book. Leave a book" collections are showing up in coffee shops and public spaces all around the globe. And now, at the Villa Gardens retirement community in Pasadena. They are called Little Free Libraries. In 2009, Todd Bol of Hudson, Wisconsin built a model of a one room schoolhouse as a tribute to his mother, a former school teacher who loved reading. He filled it with books and put it on a post in his front yard. His neighbors and friends loved it. He built several more and gave them away. Each one had a sign that said FREE BOOKS. Then along came Rick Brooks of the University of Wisconsin-Madison, who saw Bol's do-it-yourself project while they were discussing potential social enterprises. With the goal of matching Andrew Carnegie's support of 2,509 free public libraries around the turn of the 19th to 20th century, they undertook an ambitious plan and – this being the 21st century – gave it and registered the name: "Little Free Libraries." By January of 2014, the total number of registered Little Free Libraries in the world was conservatively estimated to be nearly 15,000, with thousands more being built. In April 2014, Villa Gardens resident Pat Ganje was surfing the Web, happened upon the Little Free Libraries story and shared it immediately with executive director Dmitry Estrin who saw in this a way for Villa Gardens to share duplicates of books in their library. Luis SantaCruz from the Villa Gardens maintenance crew volunteered to design and build a "library", maintenance coordinator Cindy Barajas and director of resident services Silvia Samuelson all joined Dmitry in getting the project off and running, and Pat Ganje agreed to manage it. The Villa Gardens Little Free Library (LFL) is now an official and registered member of this world-wide organization and its name and address show up on the Little Free Library website's world-wide map. It is placed in an easily accessible and visible site in front of Villa Gardens at 842 E. Villa Street and awaits any and all visitors to take a book, which need not be returned, and to contribute one of their own.

Amber	Jamal	11333	11645 San Vicente Blvd		Los Angeles	CA		Coral Tree Café is excited to bring the nationwide Little Free Library movement to their restaurant in Brentwood, Los Angeles. Sponsoring one of the few Little Free Libraries in the area, Coral Tree Café is hoping to promote literacy, the love of reading and a sense of community through their free book exchanges. The wooden box for the library was generously donated by long-time Coral Tree Café customer Keith Allen-Niesen, and designed by Amber Jamal who oversees the marketing and customer relations for the Coral Tree Café chain as well as their sister restaurants. She states, "Being an active member of the community is an extremely important part of who we are. We hope to contribute something positive with our new library by encouraging the exploration of literature, providing an opportunity for people to give back by donating books they have previously enjoyed, and inviting the community to connect with each other through these meaningful book exchanges." The library, located near their side entrance on Darlington Street, is painted to resemble the café and features their famous cup logo filled with brightly-colored flowers as well as their iconic hanging succulent plants. The miniature library has initially been stocked with an eclectic mixture of books from the café and ideally will be self-sustaining, but will be refilled as needed by the restaurant.

Viel	Catig	14279	14608 Westfield Avenue		Chino	CA	My Parents - Surlito and Zilda Catig	When I was a little kid growing up in Manila, I remember spending the day reading... with my head buried into classics such as Treasure Island and 20,000 Leagues Under The Sea. It was such a joy... my imagination would soar beyond the confines of a middle class suburban life in the Philippines. My favorites were the classics and Sweet Valley High. When my family moved to California, as a teenager I devoured such wonderful works of literature... I was like Jay Gatsby, forever reaching towards the green light of books. This little free library located in Chino, California is about a year in the making. I hope to share the love of books to children and adults alike in my neighborhood. The Bicycling Bunny LFL is dedicated to my parents -- my mother who taught me how to read and my father who would come home with encyclopedias for me to explore.
hogan	dinsmore	11373	422 walnut street		petaluma	CA		My name is Hogan and I purchased and installed my Little Free Library as part of my 6th grade community service project. I go to Live Oak Charter school in Petaluma and each 6th grader is required to complete a service project for their community. The library was part of my service project. It has been very popular with my neighbors. I have seen all age groups visit my library. The neighbors are very kind and helpful and always leave my library clean and organized. I discovered a great book series from my library and like to see what new books are donated. Thank you, Hogan Dinsmore

Gabrielle	Vega	15827	20730 Verne Ave.		Lakewood	CA		My brother AJ Vega illustrated all the pictures and my Uncle Ruben helped me build it. I had a grand opening ceremony and I invited my neighbors and some of my previous teachers to it. A lot of my friends and family showed up for the grand opening and a few teachers donated books. In the end I received 390 books! I am so grateful that so many people were interested in helping me with my library.

Building the library distracted me from worrying about her. She was in poor health with some dementia but still enjoyed it when I read children's books to her. The neighbors pitched in with building and donating materials and a local home improvement store donated material as well.

Marilyn	Droppers	16418	239 Las Flores Drive		Bakersfield	CA	Ella Soule, Althea Smith and Rowena Ramires	This Little Library had a former life as a newspaper stand. Now it cries out, "Extra, Extra, Read all About It," to neighbors and friends. In its short life it has already drawn thanks, kudos and contributions from neighbors. The steward's great-grandmother started a free lending library in her remote Northern California community over 100 years ago, her grandmother served as librarian in the Carnegie library of her hometown and her mother instilled a love of reading with early trips to the local library. Now, the steward is pleased to share the gift of reading with neighbors and grandchildren.

Tam	Gray	9147	629 Arlington Avenue		Berkeley	CA		The LFL was made with recycled materials including siding from redwood decking, a solar-cell for night-time lighting and images of Andrew Carnegie and Thomas Jefferson on the interior. Our youngest daughter and husband made the LFL, their third together for our location, one in Oakland (CA) and one in Portland (OR). A son-in-law in Albany (CA) nearby made his LFL with family artists contributing decorative painting. Although we're not from the UK ourselves, we find that Man Booker Prize winners and contenders are popular with our donors. When we find the shelves wanting for donations we go to city and town library sales in order to supplement, which in turn, helps those libraries with funding.

Shelly	Slaven	729	12910 Morning Song Ave.		Bakersfield	CA		Lennar Central Valley is proud to be a sponsor of Little Free Libraries throughout the San Joaquin Valley in Central California. The latest Little Free Library (LFL) #0729 was installed in March of 2012 at their Summerlyn community in Bakersfield California. Lennar Homes is hoping a free community library will encourage reading and neighborhood interaction in its Valley developments. Lennar is installing 14 "Little Free Libraries" in select Valley communities to encourage children and adults to read and to promote a neighborly community. The libraries are small painted boxes, located in front of the model home centers that are filled with teen-adult and children's books. It's part of a worldwide campaign to promote literacy while building a sense of community. This particular LFL is hand-painted and features the California State Flower – the Golden Poppy. Lennar has installed several other LFL's to date with plans for many more. The national new home builder has also donated LFL's to the Ronald McDonald Houses in Madera and Bakersfield. Lennar is proud to sponsor and donate these Little Free Library boxes to their new home neighborhoods throughout the Central San Joaquin Valley and have received a great positive response. Book drives are held periodically by the Lennar Associates in the division. The donated books are used to help stock the LFL's placed by Lennar. It's a team effort and Lennar Central Valley is honored to be a part of this literacy movement.

Jolene	Gutierrez	1411	4400 E. Iliff Avenue		Denver	CO	In honor of Jose Anchondo, builder of this library	The reasons behind our Little Free Library are many, but the main reason it stands today is because of Jose Anchondo, the head of our maintenance department. He had decided to retire in 2012 after 20+ years of working at the school, and I asked if he'd be willing to build a Little Free Library so we could have it as a reminder of him and his many years of service. I'm an author as well as the librarian at Denver Academy, a private school for students with learning differences, so I understand the power of books and the printed word, and I've witnessed how finding the right book can change kids' lives. I see the LFL as an extension of our school library--a lending library that is open to all community members at all hours. Our students are excited about the library and enjoy opening its little door to check for new books. They also like to donate their own books and share them with others. Our Little Free Library is a beautiful reminder that information should be enjoyed and shared with everyone.

Phoebe	Zimmermann	13546	400 S. Ogden St.		Denver	CO		We've erected our Little Free Library on our corner in the hopes of bringing people together in our neighborhood. While we have books for all ages, we especially want the many children in the neighborhood to know the joy of having a library, even a small one, nearby that they can visit anytime, sharing and finding new stories and adventures.
Janet	Morrison	13850	1604 S. Emery St.		Longmont	CO		Students and teacher mentors at Indian Peaks Elementary School painted the LFL. Then we scheduled a Grand Opening, on what turned out to be a rainy day. Fortunately that didn't dampen any of the enthusiasm, especially with an umbrella attached to the fence where the "pequeña biblioteca" resides... in one of the bilingual neighborhoods where our school's families live.
Laurie	Morren-Musial	14123	5846 S. College Ave	287 Craft Spirits - outside by the ice	Fort Collins	CO		I first discovered Little Free Libraries last summer while visiting my daughter in East Lansing, MI. While exploring the neighborhoods around her home I noticed several homes with Little Free Libraries in the front yards and my daughter told me the concept behind them. I fell in love with the idea and decided to do something similar back home in Colorado. Now, a year later, my husband and I are in the process of completing a renovation on our business. As part of this process we were looking for ways to make more connections with the neighborhood we are located in and with our customers. I remembered the Little Free Libraries I saw last summer and after discussing it, we decided having a library of our own would be a great way of giving back to our neighbors and customers. We found an old phone booth on Craigslist that we thought would make a perfect Little Library. After much sweeping, scrubbing, painting, and re-imagining, our Little Free Library was completed. My husband added lighting with a timer for those who need a book before bed, built shelving from an old waterbed frame, and I went through our large collection of books as well as scoured garage sales for books to fill the shelves. We have both fiction and non-fiction books for adults and a selection of children's books as well. We are also planning on providing a small selection of card and board games that can be borrowed as well as a few DVDs. We have had a wonderful response from our customers and families in the neighborhood, with people both borrowing and sharing books of their own, and parents and kids picking out books together. I love that we can offer something that's free and that brings smiles to peoples faces and helps us create a shared sense of community. I have always imagined that my perfect job would be operating a bookmobile, and in a way that's what I'm doing now, and it's great.

Andy	McCullough	11732	1319 Alexandria Street		Lafayette	CO		I was in a neighborhood in Boulder last fall helping victims of our September flood and I saw a Little Free Library and thought 'wow, what a great idea. I'd love to have one in our neighborhood.' Later I took my wife and kids by and we examined how they built their library and spoke with the steward. Then I started seeing these little free libraries everywhere. It was like a Baader-Meinhof phenomenon. It seems every neighborhood has one these days. Anyway, we live in a neat little neighborhood. 'Salt of the Earth people' our neighbor Jennifer likes to say. Lafayette Park its called, there this is no sign and you only know its called that if you search a home for sale. People walk by our home a lot because we are at the end of a cul-de-sac and entrance to a great walking trail on open space. We hope as our neighbors pass by taking their dog on a walk, strolling their baby or coming back from a run that they take a second to stop, check out a book or two and enjoy books we love. We hope they see this as their library too. Maybe they will share their favorites that we all can enjoy as well. We hope this library is just another thing that makes our neighborhood great.

Bob	Sullivan	12337	1720 N. Weber St.		Colorado Springs	CO		In 2013 TwoCor (twocor.org) hosted their first annual Old North End Holiday Home Tour to raise funds for their important work. They reached out to us to help them promote their event, which we were happy to do. After the event they asked if they could do some work in the neighborhood to show their appreciation. We decided a Little Library was the perfect project to collaborate on since it would have a lasting impact on our neighborhood and give them a chance to show off their talented craftsmen. TwoCor designed and built the library to match the beautiful homes that grace our historic neighborhood. Thank you to Colorado Springs School District 11 for granting us permission to place the library on D-11 property. The library was installed in the pocket park just south of Steele Elementary school because it is a busy location during school days and was designed to be a neighborhood meeting place. The local Boy Scouts will be maintaining the library for us and making sure it is well stocked. We hope that this library will be enjoyed by many generations to come.

Cheryl & Darwin	Naccarato	15483	410 Craig Court		Woodland Park	CO	Wayne Duree (father of Cheryl) and Barbara Duree (aunt of Cheryl) and all other passionate readers in our family, especially Courtney Rankin (daughter) and Branden Naccarato (son).	Cheryl had wanted to build a Little Free Library for several years. She made a cardboard model of what she had in mind-complete with signs! Everyone teased her for weeks because it held a place of honor in our living room. A good friend of ours (Adrian Vinke) visited us one week to house hunt in the area and attend a family wedding. Between his two commitments, he was a tremendous help in getting the majority of our library built with both of us taking turns assisting him. Darwin designed and built the post. Cheryl did all the painting. Cheryl visited our city offices to see what permits, etc we would need. Since we are the first in Woodland Park, they were at odds but nonetheless, the planning department only requested that we not cement it in the ground in case they needed access to the easement. Cheryl had taken a picture of her cardboard model and Little Free Library info and the entire city office gathered round when she made our case. We live in a covenant-controlled neighborhood and because we painted it the same color as our home and roofed it with the same shingles, approval was easy! Woodland Park is a small mountain community nestled in the majestic Rocky Mountains about 18 miles due west of Colorado Springs, CO. We are the first stewards in Woodland Park! We have a broad assortment of books--both for kids and adults--all donated by friends, family and neighbors.
Denise	Nejfelt	14781	36 S Lee Road		Niantic	CT		What better place than a beach community to start a Little Free Library! I saw these cute little libraries on Pinterest and wanted one of my own. Christine	Browning	14949	Tolland Youth Garden, north of Lions Club	Cider Mill Road	Tolland	CT		The Tolland Youth Garden provides unique learning opportunities for children and teens to discover the joys and benefits of gardening while providing fresh produce for local food banks and soup kitchens. In a winter planning session for the garden, we were discussing ways to build community and bring more people to the garden. When the idea of adding a little free library was introduced, it was enthusiastically embraced. Our "Reading Thyme" whimsical library has a living roof-various thyme plants-and window boxes. It houses a seed packet and healthy recipe exchange, along with books for people of all ages. Visitors are also encouraged to write in our garden journal about their visit to the garden-what books were brought or exchanged, wildlife observed, new neighbors met, interesting recipes discovered, seeds shared, and monarch butterflies watched.

Steven	Wood	9765	27 Hartford Avenue		Stamford	CT		After learning about Little Free Libraries I felt the overwhelming need to build one of my own. I like the idea of offering something to the neighborhood in order to build a sense of community. I am not a wood-worker, but I made the library from scratch after working out my own plans. I am not an artist, but I also painted the library according to whim and commission. The library was funded with a Kickstarter campaign. I built in a small geocache hatch integrated into the library itself... so it doubles as a registered geocache. I am also running low-voltage power to the library to provide power and possible internet connectivity.

This class project combined their love of literature and art by building, painting and decorating this Little Free Library. Each child has hand drawn their interpretation of a feeling they have been learning about and added that artwork to the surface of the library for decoration and as a signature of their work. Filled with the children's favorite books, this Little Free Library is a symbol of collaboration, love and goodwill.

I put my project on Kickstarter and it was successfully funded within 30 days. I installed it in my neighborhood and it's been a huge success.

Nolan Technology Association	Maureen Hudson	10976	6655 Greenbrook Blvd.		Lakewood Ranch	FL		We are students of Nolan Middle School's Technology Student Association and we were challenged as part of a State and National competition to find a community need related to construction and plan and implement a course of action involving community members. We felt that being able to create and construct our own Little Free Library from the ground up was a great opportunity to give back to our community through the gift of free books for all age groups. This would also help families who may not have access to books because of the distance across town to the county library. We collaborated with our local county leaders to discuss design ideas and determine good locations for the libraries that would benefit a community. Our team worked hard to implement our ideas through constructing the libraries, painting, staining, and cutting out shapes such as surf boards and palm trees on the school laser to give our Surf Shack Library a very unique and creative appeal. We coordinated a school book drive to be able to fill our libraries with a variety of books for adults and children. The final install of both of our libraries was a proud moment for our team. This project gave us a real sense of accomplishment but more importantly we felt very proud about being able to give back to our community.

One is planted as of June 5, 2014 in its Lakefront Park. Maureen Lacey of East Lake Community Library donated her talents and created the artwork for the exterior. Friends of East Lake Community Library's Book Nook donated the initial seeding of books for each of the LFL's and volunteers from the Friends will continue to steward the collection in each unit.
Susan	Wolf	12062	4955 Highpoint Drive	Lansbrook Commons Park	Palm Harbor	FL		This is the second LFL in Lansbrook's development. Story is told in the first one. Both were planted the same day, June 5, 2014.

john	vagnoni	15752	Green Parrot Bar	601 Whitehead Street	Key West	FL		The Green Parrot Little Free Library had been on the radar of the owners of The Green Parrot for some time. With the help of Nick Vagnoni, Nathaniel Sandler, Arlo Haskell and Lori Kelly, The Green Parrot hosted a book exchange by Bookleggers, a community mobile library based out of Miami. That same weekend David Wegman, an artist who spends his time between Key West, St. Barts, and Maine stopped by to see if there were any projects on the horizon for him. All the planets seemed to line up and David was commissioned to build the Green Parrot Little Free Library the same day. Two weeks later it was dedicated and now it is proudly part of the fabric of our neighborhood for all to enjoy.
Jane	Medley	14440	1155 NW 13th St		Gainesville	FL	In honor of Carolyn Livingston	Our Little Free Library is near the Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Mid-Florida building. Walker and Levi were matched as Big and Little in summer 2013. The two share an interest in reading good books. They began the Little Free Library Project in spring 2014, and completed it before the end of Levi's school year. We hope to curate a collection of books that can be enjoyed by everyone, especially children and adults who visit the Big Brothers/Big Sisters office. We like the concept of "take a book, return a book." The books are freely offered. Contributions of good books for children or adults are always welcomed, just put them in the library. If you see a book you might like, take it home and enjoy. Thanks for checking out our Little Free Library!

Jenn	Baker	14023	2314 Eastmeadows Ct.		Lakeland	FL		It is a dream of mine to start libraries and book clubs all over the world-- that's why I started an etsy business: JennTage. Step one- my own front yard! My four kids (triplets and an older sis) help me find books and we even host book parties in the front yard! Two of our kids are adopted from Uganda... so one day we HAVE to start one there as well!
Kelly	Susino	10128	350 US Highway 1		Vero Beach	FL		The Little Free Library at McKee Botanical Garden came at the suggestion of one of our board members. The Garden has an on site library containing books about horticulture and botany, as well as a Botanical Book Club that meets several times during the season. Our Little Free Library was constructed by a group of McKee volunteers. It contains titles of all types and is an extension of the Garden's efforts to promote literacy, education and a love of reading. All are welcome to use this community resource!
Darlene	Cumbe'-Ramirez	16871	8464 Hollyhock ave		Seminole	FL	Olivia Cumberworth	I love to read, what a great ideal I could not wait to make one for our little community. Our Little Free Library is hand crafted using only what we had around the house. Nothing new was purchased to create our library. Because of that it does have a unique look but functions just the same.

Jamal	Johnson	13632	1523 Gulf Beach Hwy.		Pensacola	FL		Heritage Oaks Apartments and RV Park is a housing community for low-income families. It is overseen by the local agency BRACE (Be Ready Alliance for Community Emergencies). The families of Heritage Oaks have many children between birth to middle school age students who do not have many outlets for obtaining books and literature. The Free Little Library will provide these children with books galore from a variety of reading levels. The books are donated by the Early Learning Coalition of Escambia County, a state operated non-profit program that also serves low-income families in paying for child care and a variety of other services. Heritage Oaks is grateful to have these agencies all partnering together to ensure our children in the community have every opportunity to learn, gain a passion for reading, and experience future success!
Rachel	Melcher	12675	11847 162nd Place North		Jupiter	FL		While other kids were busy playing house or inventing impossible wood block skyscrapers, I was reading, alphabetizing my books, and pretending to be a librarian. In 2005, I moved to the city of Chicago and discovered, one day while taking my son on a stroller ride, an old graffiti-covered newspaper box that had been repurposed as a community book exchange box. It felt like magic, trustingly placing a spot to share books in a place where unintended bicycles are stripped in minutes by criminals. My son grew into toddlerhood and we loaded the back bucket of his tricycle with books to donate and went to straighten things out and remove the trash and discarded coffee cups from the shelves. I didn't know about Little Free Library.org, but I was already a convert to the movement. I saw how that one act of someone I never met transformed the energy of our neighborhood. I felt a part of something wonderful and warm and rare in our modern world. Moving to a semi-rural but close-knit South Florida community gave me the space and freedom I needed to create and steward my own Little Free Library. I call it the Little Sunshine Book Box and it is a gift, from my family to the families of our chosen town. It is a dream realized for me—a little girl who always wanted her very own library—and I hope having the box stuffed with children's books will help feed the childhood adventures of many other little bookworms like me.

arbor	elle vintage	13943	596 N. Indian Rocks Rd. #4		Belleair Bluffs	FL	Pouf le Roux "Puff"	While mourning the loss of my darling companion Bichon Frise, Pouf le Roux, aka Puff, I learned of the Little Free Libraries and their mission. I decided to become a steward and began the hunt for a structure. Immediately the Gods of Green Living presented the perfect structure! A Georgian doll house with two wings. My husband and I painted it white with black shutters and a red door. It's darling and inviting and hold a lot of booms which I am committed to stock with books for all ages and from all genres. My neighbors in Antique Alley where my shop and library are located came to a book trading party and Grand Opening June 30, 2014 and the Mayor did the honors during the ribbon cutting. The editors of our free weeklies helped spread the word and I'm hoping the Library will be used and enjoyed by the community and also the snowbirds we host every fall and winter.

Beth	Rood	15740	3506Arizona Drive		Pensacola	FL		Our Little Free Library open this week. A good friend of ours encouraged us to put one in our yard. We painted a newspaper box and two neighborhood girls painted flowers, ladybugs, and butterflies on it. Our Reading Helps Us Grow Library is up and running. We invite the neighbors to come have lemonade and the neighborhood children made bookmakers. The children loved getting books and so did the adults. We are very excited about sharing books with our neighbors.

Marj	Schneider	14883	In grassy court island	9 Reynolds Court	Savannah	GA		This is what we hope will be the first, with more libraries to come, to the Kensington Park neighborhood of Savannah. In keeping with the style of many of our homes, this is a one-story ranch-style library with both children's and adult books. We hope to add a separate kids' library at this location and establish others in the area as well. A memorial bench will soon be moved to our first library's location and many neighbors have already visited since the library's grand opening in mid-May, 2014. What a great way for neighbors to come out, talk to each other, and share books.
Barb	Bridges	14726	1922 5th Avenue N.W.		Waverly	IA	Arnold & Helen Imbrock	This library is in memory of our Dad and to honor our Mom. Dan designed and built it as a barn, because our parents grew up on farms, and Waverly is a farming community. We hope people find, use and love the library, while also incorporating the Bartels Retirement Community more into their lives. Our thanks to Barb (from Bartels) for giving us the perfect idea to honor them both.

Tanya	Gordon	11702	609 N 22nd Street		Clarinda	IA		We live in a small town and there are a lot of kids on our block that love to read. While we have a public library, not all of the kids 'have time' to make it to the public library. We wanted to have the Free Library at our home because there are a lot of families that walk by for daily walks, so it's nice to be able to give them access to reading; especially during the summer.

Ellen	Alexander	16823	501 6th Street	Central Park	Coralville	IA		Our Little Free Library is one of five sponsored by the City of Coralville. This one was built by John Gross, who is very involved in Boy Scouts and is an avid woodworker. He has built twelve Little Free Libraries that are placed around the area, one for each point of the scout law. The law for this one is Obedience.
Charlotte	Wright	4234	2418 Friendship Street		Iowa City	IA		The local Lowe's store offered a free workshop for building a Little Free Library, so I took advantage of that. It was nearly a year later before I had time to paint it and make it weather-tight, then find the old elementary-school table to put it on. I really wanted the library to be at eye-level for children, to encourage their participation.

Chris	Orr	6899	515 Parkwild Drive		Council Bluffs	IA	Gladys Schleifer	This library is dedicated to Gladys Schleifer. The painted panels and trim tell the stories and sides of her life as others saw her. The trim colors are those of the small town school and community which she tirelessly supported framing all other efforts. The floral side reflects her garden for which she received countless, gratifying compliments. The baked good side reflects her love and talent in the kitchen. The roof retraces loving bonds with her feline friends, Tinker & Buddy, only they could walk all over her! Gladys loved to sew. The rear panel (a "behind the scenes" nod) pays tribute to some of her best attributes, endlessly stitched together, dot by dot, task by task, always ensuring others were cared for first - sewing together a wonderful pattern for life woven with ordinary love.

The trim colors are those of the small town school and community which she tirelessly supported framing all other efforts. The floral side reflects her garden for which she received countless, gratifying compliments. The baked goods side reflects her love and talent in the kitchen. The roof retraces living bonds with her feline friends, Tinker & Buddy, only they could walk all over her! Gladys loved to sew. The rear panel (a "behind the scenes" nod) pays tribute to some of her best attributes, endlessly stitched together, dot by dot, task by task, always ensuring others were cared for first - sewing together a wonderful pattern for life woven with ordinary love.
Carol	Mabee	12268	215 Thorwaldsen		Clinton	IA	Avanelle Larson	Books and libraries have always been an important part of my life whether it be many wonderful hours spent listening to my mother read bedtime stories, the adventures of Dr. Doolittle or The Wizard of Oz, and then later once I could read for myself I would spend hours with Nancy Drew, My Friend Flicka, or in the land of Narnia. I worked my way through college at Texas Tech in the school library and much later worked for 23 years in the Clinton High School library. When I saw an article in the paper over a year ago about Little Free Libraries I knew we had to have one. As much as I love my Kindle I love holding and reading a "real" book more and will do all I can to encourage children and adults alike to pick up a book and become absorbed in it's pages filled with mystery, adventure, knowledge, humor, etc. My deepest thanks to the Little Free Library organization for helping me and so many others fill this dream. We did this as a way to promote literacy in our neighborhoods, which are mostly low to moderate income areas.
Greta	Anderson	15466	219 S. Kellogg St.		Ames	IA		Our town started asking itself why LFLs were only located in "better" parts. We challenged ourselves to make Little Free Libraries available wherever there are kids, and especially kids with fewer resources than others. This is the first of others LFLs to be planted in low-income neighborhoods and trailer parks in the Ames area. It is located directly outside the transitional housing program of our homeless shelter, where families stay for a year while they get on their feet. Thanks to Mike Parsons (builder), Susan Norris (artist), Amy Bleyle (instigator), Cindy O. Paschen (fan) and many others who help keep our shelves flush with books!

Wendy	Jones	10070	17951 S Raccoon Ct		Coeur d Alene	ID		I read an article in the Spokesman Review about a LittleFreeLibrary and wanted one for our area. I called the Spokesman to inquire about an outdoor newspaper stand that might be headed for recycle and they had two for me. Since we live in a rural area I decided to spray paint the currently bright red and white stand a dark brown. Next I painted on trees and birds. I used recycled lumber to make a roof and topped it with forest twigs. I also made a handle out of a forest twig.

Twin Lakes has been an ideal location to reach many people as they enjoy the great outdoors. Making this possible has been a team effort! Thanks to all of those involved. Regards, Jessica Masterson
Allison	Mutu	10003	Disney II Magnet School	3815 North Kedvale Avenue	Chicago	IL		The girls of Girl Scout troop 23148 created two little free libraries this year from newspaper boxes generously donated by the Chicago Tribune. This is the first library which they placed at their school, Disney II Magnet. It has been incredibly well received - they are having a hard time keeping it stocked with books!
Allison	Mutlu	15396	Irving Park United Methodist Church	3801 North Keeler Avenue	Chicago	IL		This is the second library the girls of Troop #23148 created for their community from newspaper boxes generously donated by the Chicago Tribune. This one is placed at the church where meetings are held. The girls covered the back and sides with colorful fabric - it's a beautiful addition to the street.
Richard	Murray	15700	2407 Birchwood Lane		Wilmette	IL		The neighborhood loves it! So far we're getting more donations (pretty high quality authors and books) than books going out, and we're also starting to get regular visitors or all ages. We're trying to maintain an adult collection on the top shelf, and children's on the bottom. We also included a "Comments and Requests" notebook so visitors can communicate with each other. The design was intended to fit with the house and garden ... and the interior is in fact made of birch wood (to match the "Birchwood Little Free Library" name).

Jeanne	Hester	15355	62 Park Street		Oswego	IL		We wanted to do something that would encourage interaction between neighbors and promote reading for children and adults in our neighborhood. We found this program and it was perfect. We located an old newspaper vending box, painted it and we were in business. We placed it next to the sidewalk in front of our home under a large maple tree. Now that is summer it is not unusual to see several neighbor kids sitting under the tree in the shade reading. It has so far been a wonderful experience!

Pamela	Copeland	14994	2773 Avalon Ln		Montgomery	IL		I started reading with my kids when they were little 30 years ago and developed a love for books, especially children's books. I am a non-traditional (older) student and returned to college to get my degree. As graduation got closer I hinted to my husband via facebook pictures that I would like a little library for my graduation gift. A friend with a carpenter husband saw my post and they built my library. I love having the neighbors pop by to get books and visit. Reading opens doors of opportunity and changes lives.
Carla	Schoepp	11299	618 N. 2nd Ave.		Maywood	IL		I read about a Little Free Library that was in Oak Park, IL, and asked my family for one for Christmas. Since the Chicago area had such a hard Christmas, it has just now been put in place. I can see it from my kitchen window and will enjoy watching the neighborhood take books and read as much as my husband and I have enjoyed reading through the years.
Stanton	Bond	9257	Foxmoor Lake Walking Path		Montgomery	IL		Our Little Free Library in along a walking path near a lake and a children's park. It is accessible to everyone in two subdivisions. Even before we had our "Grand Opening" a neighbor came by and put a book in. We think it will get a lot of good use, and hopefully the first of many in our town.
Carrie	Krueger	14731	167 Country Commons		Trout Valley	IL		Trout Valley is an amazing little village on the Fox River, and the Krueger family wanted to start a Little Free Library to bless our neighbors, especially all of the kiddos - to have a place where they can stop by and get excited about books and great literature! EVERYONE loves a good story! We hope that this library is well used and much loved!

Sue	Stolzer	14015	1500 E. Kensington		Mt. Prospect	IL		I wanted to do this at our wonderful park and my dad (who was 82 at the time), without hesitation, agreed to make it for me. My children helped decorate it and my husband and my co-workers and friends (we are both educators) all stocked it. We are all so pleased with how it turned out and how everyone is loving it.
Linda	Bollivar	6125	2880 Grey Hawk Dr.		Normal	IL		We were looking for a way to share our family's love of reading, and help build a sense of community in our neighborhood. A friend's husband built the library, we painted it colors to compliment our house, and filled it with books. It faces our sidewalk. The back of it faces the street and is metal. We slip a few strong magnet in the pocket of a small seasonal flag, and the street side is decorative as well.
Kim	Krueger	16199	805 South Brainard Avenue		La Grange	IL		My husband built this for me: I'm a recently retired librarian. I decorated it, inspired by The B-52s song "Love Shack". Our LFL is the "Book Shack", complete with "tin" (recycled metal) roof and plenty of glitter. There's even a little picture of B-52 Fred Schneider inside, saying "Knock a Little Louder, Sugar". The collection inside is diverse: fiction, non-fiction, adult & kids materials. The goal is to offer a bit of everything. So far the neighborhood loves it & it's a great success. I put a blank book for comments inside and the response has been very positive. We recently started offering fortune cookies, wishing our clients "good fortune and good reading". It's so much fun and a great addition to our home!
searah	deysach	11908	1760 W Wallen		Chicago	IL	Larry Deysach	My father, Larry Deysach was a passionate, avid, voracious reader. When he died in 1995 we searched for a way to honor his memory properly but never really found anything that fit him and his personality. When I heard about Little Free Libraries I knew this was the perfect thing to contribute to our local community and honor a man who had a book on every possible subject, including 500 titles in the bathroom alone (I kid you not. I counted). We are very excited to have a place in our Rogers Park, Chicago neighborhood for folks to access free books. I think it is something that he would have loved and been thrilled to participate in.

Nadine	Thompson	12001	228 South Harvey Av		Oak Park	IL		I'm a retired librarian. My college student neighbor, Alex Merchen, decided it would be very cool to build a little library for me. He got his entire family involved in the design and building project. They designed it to look like my house and finished it off with a flashy button for the doorknob. The Merchen family are in the picture. I stock it with a whole variety of books for all ages - like a true library. I'm a very lucky person to have such great neighbors.

Our library contains a nice mix of children's classics as well as page-turning summer reads for the adults.
Ken & Amy	Kauth	16438	411 S. Hale St.		Palatine	IL		My sister told us about the LFL and that her neighbor had made one. Being school librarians, once my husband and I saw the LFL and went online to research your organization, we were passionate to bring an LFL to our block. We have a mixed neighborhood of newborns through the elderly. Our LFL includes books for all ages and genders. It has been a group project in the construction and the care of the LFL. We have had many strangers stop by to talk about the LFL and their love of reading. What a great undertaking!

Allison	Ford	14046	4816 Crescent Drive		Rockford	IL		We are a teacher and a librarian who wanted to promote literacy within our neighborhood. We live in a neighborhood with heavy foot traffic, so the Little Free Library is perfect for us. We modeled our library after a one-room school house. It was designed and built with love by my grandfather. The library holds books for children, teens, adults, and also has a spot for magazines, so there is something for everyone! Stop on by and grab a book or two!

Catherine	Worsley	12772	400 Washington Street		New Boston	IL		Two Little Free Libraries have arrived in New Boston, Illinois. The premise of Little Free Libraries is simple: take a book, leave a book. The popular grass roots movement is designed to promote reading and literacy. The New Boston project is a collaboration between the Mercer Carnegie Public Library in Aledo, the Library's Friends Group and Royal Neighbors Chapter, and the City of New Boston. The fact that New Boston Township is one of the many Townships in Mercer County which is not part of - or served by - a public library district inspired the project. One Little Free Library will be dedicated to Children's materials only. Students from New Boston Elementary School decorated the Libraries, which are located by the downtown mailboxes. The Libraries were installed by the city, according to New Boston Mayor Chis DeFrieze.
Elaine	Savage	14036	Lake Katherine Nature Preserve	7402 Lake Katherine Dr.	Palos Heights	IL	Palos Heights Public Library 70th Anniversary	The Palos Heights Public Library is happy to honor its 70th anniversary by giving the community its first Little Free Library located at the Lake Katherine Nature Preserve in Palos Heights, Illinois. The Friends of the Library will be keeping the library stocked with nature related books for all ages. The Little Free Library was built under the direction of long time Palos Heights resident, Durward Fagan (102 years old) and his family, Nancy and Donald Hammel. The Library is pleased to give back to the community an everlasting way to promote literacy and hopes that the Little Free Library not only becomes an opportunity to encourage readers, but also a place to build friendships.

Sarah	Austin	14784	1360 Olive Road		Homewood	IL		The emerald ash borer has infested the ash trees in our neighborhood, and my corner used to have 7 of these beautiful old trees. One ash tree had been planted next to the sidewalk in front of my house. As an occupational therapist, I hoped that making the trunk of this tree into a little free library would be a way to allow the tree to continue to contribute to the health and wellbeing of my community by encouraging participation in the meaningful everyday activity of reading. My neighbor Ron Elhers provided invaluable help in the process of transforming the tree trunk into a little free library. Many others have contributed their help, their encouragement and their books. Linda	Nulle	16163	911 Wicker St.		Woodstock	IL		I first became acquainted with the LFL while I was visiting my daughter and family in Minneapolis, Mn. A neighbor down the street from her had one, and I was instantly wanting one. It's only been up for a week now, and it's a smashing success. I'm wishing it was bigger!! :)
Tom	Gelinas	16769	1420 Trailwood Drive		Crystal Lake	IL		I've written an article on Little Free Libraries that has been published in McHenry County Living and can be accessed at http://mchenrycountyliving.com/places/item/638-our-local-little-free-libraries
Bob	Karrow	16503	639 Lyman		Oak Park	IL
Anne	Comeau	16798	1500 W. Thorndale		Cgucagi	IL		This Little Free Library was installed in an ornamental garden maintained by volunteers from the Edgewater Environmental Sustainability Project. The garden is next to a children's play lot and is in a densely populated urban area of Chicago with many different cultures, so the Little Free Library started with books for children on nature and the environment donated by "The Nature Generation". Now, fiction and non fiction children & adult books are freely circulating. In addition, a children's reading group was formed and each Saturday in August, Ms. Angela engaged youngsters and their parents in a new age appropriate story and activities.

Claudia	Freeman	12226	Jack Benny Center for the Arts-Bowen Par	39 Jack Benny Drive	Waukegan	IL		Type Rider II - the tandem poetry tour (poets Maya Rachel Stein and Amy Tingle of New Jersey's Food for the Soul Train) just rode from Boulder CO to Beloit WI building Little Free Libraries throughout the Midwest. Along with supporting literacy and Little Free Libraries they provided poetry at each site. Waukegan Park District and its Jack Benny Center for the Arts was not part of their tour as it had been when Maya Rachel Stein rode from Amherst to Milwaukee in the spring of 2012. Since the only way these two poets/artists/adventurers could get from the end of their trek from Boulder to Beloit and then back home to New Jersey was to pass Waukegan - a second collaboration was born. Besides having tandem poetry at our arts center, these women donated a Little Free Library to our community. Within a day of a request for donated books for children through adults to fill our new library, we received about 60 books from our community. Of course, being the hometown of Ray Bradbury, there are a few "Fahrenheit 451's", "Dandelion Wine's", and "Something Wicked This Way Comes" in our library!
Jennifer	Dillon	15243	6018 Thrushwood Drive		Indianapolis	IN	Carol Ford	The library itself was a gift to me from my mother on Mother's Day. She had seen me pin a bunch of LFL's on Pinterest and knew how much I wanted one, so she had one built for me. This particular library was built by a man who does exhibits for the Indiana State Museum. The wood for the roof was scrap from a railroad display (my dad is a huge railfan). My neighborhood has been wonderful - we've had so many people participate so far! My proudest moment was when a neighbor told me he had seen a whole circle of kids flopped in my yard reading. We've since added the bench :)
Kay	McGriff	15682	1380 E County Rd 25 N		North Vernon	IN		My husband first thought he would build a bird feeder on the unused basketball goal in our front drive. I thought a Little Free Library would be better than a bird feeder. After looking at the different types of libraries around, he built this one using leftover materials we had on hand. Since I was a middle school language arts teacher, I had access to plenty of books. The neighbors gave us many strange looks as we were building, but now that it is up, people are coming to visit--and to donate books. My husband thought the library would be a good way to reduce the number of books lying around the house, but right now the books are multiplying!

Isom	Elementary School	12460	50 E Broadway Dr.		Greenwood	IN		From a generous grant from Duke Energy the Greenwood Public Library was able to get 10 partners for this Little Free Library project. Isom Elementary School is located just blocks from the Greenwood Library and is an ideal place for the neighborhood to use this LFL! The school agreed to post the Library on their property and are excited for kids and their families to use it - even in the summer!
Paul	Brincefield	8633	1707 Oakland St.		Fort Wayne	IN		I came across LFL in a side article on Toronto's newspaper website while following the Blue Jays. After a few hours of diving into this new found world we knew immediately that I was going to build our own library for the front yard. It took me a week collecting old unused materials and spent a meager eight dollars at our local Habitat For Humanity ReStore on hardware and roof shingles. On Memorial Day weekend I planned, built and installed around the collected materials with neighbors gathering around with great interest. In our first year we have seen an estimated 1300 books rotate through, most of these being for children. The Library has held a lot of Christian books including different Bibles, young adult and romance novels. Our Charter is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Fort Wayne and is part of their 100 LFL project; our "Security Guards" live across the street protecting it at times from teenage mischief. The libraries visitors have come as far as Virginia and Florida, we have made plenty of new friends, our community has grown and become closer at the same time. We never imagined that all these wonderful events could have come from a few dollars and box filled with books.

Sonja	Sommers-Milbourn	13817	121 N. Emporia		El Dorado	KS	Edith Haupt Louis	My beloved grandmother, Edith Louis, taught me to read when I was all of 3 years of age. I've been passionate about books ever since and am always thrilled to be able to share that with friends and family. Maura	Turner	15398	Mauri Turner	12913 Cedar Street	Leawood	KS		The library has been a group effort with our neighbors. We believe that it is a wonderful addition to our neighborhood. We believe that it will encourage more people to read, will allow more neighbors to meet each other and will help improve literacy. We were encouraged by walkers in our neighborhood that stopped by as we built the library in our garage and recognized what we were building.
Sarah	Collins	11848	8916 Ensley Lane		Leawood	KS		Spencer's Little Free Library began as a mother's day gift in May of 2014. It soon became known around the world when the city Leawood made the Collins Family take the library down as it violated city code. Spencer heard from people all over the world in support of his library. The library was featured in 2 political cartoons. Spencer addressed the Leawood City Council in July of 2015 and received permission to reinstall the library. Along the way Spencer met Todd Bol, one of the founders of the Little Free Library Organization. Spencer also met Wyatt Townley, poet laureate of Kansas, and her husband Roderick Townley who is a children's book author. Inge Auerbacher, author and holocaust survivor, met Spencer on the steps of the New York City Public Library. "From the little library in Kansas to the big library in NYC." He also received a letter of support and books from Lemony Snicket. The library is back up and running and is getting lots of use!

The library was unveiled with a ribbon cutting hosted by The Chamber of Commerce. Across the street used to be a school, which has since been torn down to make room for new affordable homes. We are glad to have a Little Library to great the families new the neighborhood.
Janelle	Wenzl	15731	2926 SW Tutbury Town Rd.		Topeka	KS		I first heard about the Little Free Library through an article in our local paper. I immediately wanted to place one in my own yard. I have a degree in English and my husband and I are avid readers. We read to my stepdaughter every single night and now, at 12 years old, she loves to read as well. My husband and I both grew up in small towns as well, where everyone knew their neighbors and I loved the idea of fostering a community here in Topeka through this project. Community is such an important aspect of children growing up in healthy environments and I am very excited to supplement the community already begun with our neighbors.

Kim	Fairchild	10674	5617 w 86th ter		Overland Park	KS		Kim is 10 years old and received her LFB for Christmas. She wants to be a librarian, an author, and an artist when she grows up. She loves to read and she started loaning out books from a 'library' in her room when she was 7 years old! She has a regular book club with her friends every summer. Most of the books in her LFB are young adult and easy chapter books for kids, but she has a good variety!

Tricia	Rightmire	16494	6316 Amina St		Shawnee	KS	Mike Printz	Greetings from Shawnee, KS! Our LFL is a little different from what you may be used to: rather than being a stationary box, ours moves! Our HOA is pretty clear about not wanting free-standing storage structures on the properties here, so in an attempt to play by the rules while still sharing a love of books and reading, we loaded our collection into a wagon, made some signs, and voila--the Little Free Bookmobile was born. You can watch for us walking around the subdivision (and periodically wandering out into the city at large) or hanging out in our neighborhood's park on particularly nice days. We'll look forward to meeting you, and hopefully connecting with you with your new favorite book!
Carol	Westerfield	14351	1800 Paradise Camp Road		Harrodsburg	KY		My father built the library so people down by our lake house would have the ability to enjoy reading. There is a county library about 16 miles away. This is making things so much better for all the folks around.

Jacqueline	Merville	14758	807 Grey Fox Circle		Haughton	LA		This is the first Little Free Library in Bossier Parish. It was made possible thanks to many neighbors coming together in Dogwood South. The Merville family built and donated the library. It was given as a mother's day gift to spend time together as a family over several weeks. Jean Sanders graciously offered to have the LFL placed on her yard. She did the gardening for around the LFL as well. C M Affordable Fence donated the post and installed it. Phyllis	Glover	1038	702 3rd Street		Morgan City	LA		As a elementary school library and living close our city park, I wanted children to have access to a book free, no string attached. Many students don't have library cards for many reasons, the LFL allows children and adults to have access to books without a card. I have been blessed over the past two years with wonderful media coverage, friends of my LFL with monetary donations, and my students and former students donating books they have out grown or just want to be a friend of the LFL. I am very grateful for this paid forward campaign.

Jean	Liehe	16805	Gardere Christian Community School	8538 GSRI Rd.	Baton Rouge	LA		We were trying to think of a way to bring books, especially for the children, into a community. The local library is too far and there are no sidewalks going to it and many of the parents don't have cars to transport the children there. Little Free Library seems like one way to do this. We are part of a pilot plan to see how well they do. The other one is on Ned St. in the same community. Our hope is to plant more of these libraries throughout the Gardere area.
Danielle	Richard	16511	296 Atlantic Avenue		Shreveport	LA		We heard about the Little Free Library concept from Librarian friends here in Shreveport and we just couldn't resist! We live on a corner in a great neighborhood and we get a LOT of foot traffic walking by, so the location is just perfect. It's actually across the street from our elementary school! With that in mind, the books tend to be mostly geared toward younger readers, but with so much space available for book storage we really do have a little something for everyone.
Ray	Blum	14813	1630 Rue Du Belier	Apartment 1606	Lafayette	LA		I am delighted with the response of the residents in our apartment community. The library is used practically every day. It now has books in Russian, Arabic and Spanish! I have had books written by the residents. I am looking for a sponsors fund a project. I will ask everyone in the community to consider submitting a couple of poems that they wrote and will have the collection professionally bound. We'll have a coming out party and everyone will have a copy of the book. Naturally, the book will become a part of the library.

Lori & Mike	Armstrong	8977	59 Sherburn Street		Winnipeg	MB		My retired friend introduced me to the concept of Little Free Library by taking a walk to her friend's house on Dorchester. They had just installed one. I thought my family might balk at the idea, and not be interested in strangers hanging out in front of our house. Several months later, I thought I would show my husband...he fell in love with the idea instantly. With a zest and fervour, he and our daughter designed a library that would accommodate books for children and grown ups. They got to work, and built it within a week. She and I painted it, and voila! It is one of the most charming parts of our neighbourhood (which we feel is already quite charming!) We get a load of visitors at all times of day, and I think we have also inspired another library a few blocks over. You just can't have too many Little Free Libraries! My motto is...just take the book, even if you don't have one to give. Then give that book to someone else, and talk about it with them. I believe that literacy is one of the single most important equalizers in our journey to equality for all human beings. Reading comprehension strategies are life comprehension strategies...so keep on reading! --Lori
Sirius	Fuller	14133	3927 Madison St		Hyattsville	MD		We stumbled upon this wonderful idea. We then asked Laura's dad for help building our own LFL. He is a retired builder. Using only free/reclaimed materials, he made a beautiful little house and presented it to us at Christmas. We then attempted to fit it in our car to drive home. He eventually lashed it to the roof and it made it home in one piece. After multiple snow and rain storms we eventually installed it. It is doing very well.

Emily	Burton	15467	900 Pine Heights Avenue		Baltimore	MD	Vickie	The Little Garden Free Library is a project I put together to spread the joy of reading to the people of Violetville and its passers-through. I am in the unique location of both a busy pedestrian and motorist intersection, as my property is located at the corner of Pine Heights Avenue and the last alley before Wilkens Avenue. I already have a reputation for talking to those coming by as I am out in my garden, so what a great way to spread the love to my community and they with each other, but to maintain the library on my property. It is dedicated to the memory of Vickie, a lover of books, education, children, and community. Stop by and smell the flowers (and grab a book)!

Kingsley	Gallup	13903	7 Chase Hill Road		Kennebunk	ME		My children Daisy and Zach have been so excited to share their Little Free Library and to interact further with the Lower Village, Kennebunk community they SO love. In fact, this whole idea came about in a funny way... I was at our local coffee shop a while back when a group of Southern gals traveling through the Kennebunks asked me if there were any 'little free libraries' in the area. "Oh yes", I said. "In fact, there's one right over the bridge in Kennebunkport, a short walking distance from here", pointing in the direction of our local library. "And it's a little free library?", one of the gals asked, stressing the words "little" and "free". I told them yes. (Frankly, I wondered what library wasn't indeed free; perhaps not little, but certainly free!) Either way, off they went. Several days later, I bumped into them again, at which time they said, "We need to introduce you to THE Little Free Library." We sat down, she opened up her iPad to the Little Free Library site, and she introduced me to the actual Little Free Library! I went home, told the kids about it, and the rest is history! Kingsley

Debra	Carey	14043	N12846 Sawyer Lake Rd.		Channing	MI		The nearest public library is over 25 miles away, so Sawyer Lake is a perfect place for a Little Free Library. Hopefully nearby campers and summer visitors will enjoy it, as well residents of the small neighboring communities of Channing and Sagola. My uncle Mick Carey graciously offered to build the library, and we opened for business in May, 2014. Neighborhood Sawyer Lake residents have been enthusiastic and generous supporters.

Joshua	Aderholdt	15032	1130 Eastern Ave NE		Grand Rapids	MI		I first heard about Little Free Libraries from an article my uncle posted and I thought this was a great idea. My father made the library and the whole family pitched in to set it up. We are all fans of the library, so the books available will reflect both children and adult books.

Laurel	Maguire	15019	1516 Charlton Ave.		Ann Arbor	MI		We moved here from Madison Wisconsin, and each time we'd go back to Madison to visit we'd see little free libraries popping up and loved it! We read a lot and love to share our favorites with friends and neighbors so we thought this would be a great thing to build for our front yard. We used scraps from a recent addition to make the library so it looks like our house. We also have adjustable shelving to be sure to have room for children's books as well as books for grown ups. We've seen neighbors of all ages borrowing and sharing books. It has been so much fun! I am a library media specialist with AAPS and my husband is an engineer and hobbyist woodworker so it has been a labor of love.
Erin	Schmandt	15505	8358 Buell Rd.		Vassar	Mi		I am a public librarian and Rotarian, and I have been following the Little Free Library movement with interest. For Mother's Day, my husband and sons made me one of my own. We live in a rural area, but hope it will catch on anyways.

Kim & Jeff	Bennett	15517	231 Jewell Ave.		Ferndale	MI		Our little library was built by my co-woker's boyfriend, a woodworker who used salvaged wood from an abandoned home in Hamtramck, an enclave of Detroit. After he and his partner installed it in front of our house, we threw a Little Free Library Party and asked friends to bring a book to christen it. We have since been meeting many of our neighbors, who have stopped by to browse through it. We made a flyer to tell the rest of the neighborhood about it, and one of our neighbors offered her granddaughter to deliver it. It's been fun getting to know so many people, and passing along great reads. Right now we have lots of books, for young and old. But soon we'll be adding magazines and CDs too.
Stacy	Dickert-Conlin	14684	729 Hagadorn Rd.		East Lansing	MI		The Marble Elementary school students and art teacher made a piece of art to hold the books - compiled from student ideas. Ron	Smith	16209	540 North 3rd Street		St. Clair	MI		I saw a picture of a Little Free Library on the internet and fell in love with the idea of building one for my own yard and community. I had never seen or heard of them before but after browsing the LFL website, I was hooked. I am a strong believer in early literacy skills and promoting reading to kids. My Little Free Library has picture books, chapter books for kids as well as novels for adults.
Natalie	Lashmet	14099	N194 West Dr.		Menominee	MI		There are children and a day care on this rural drive, near a local animal shelter (think dog walkers) and YMCA (think runners). We wanted to share books with people who may not make it to the city library very often, or very easily. My daughter has a master's in Library and Information sciences. This is a tribute to her. Inside papered with photo-real school supplies, outside papered with scuba diving/underwater scenes.

Located only a few blocks from the shores of Lake Michigan, the library is loaded with recently popular reads, books on CD and popular children's titles. In addition to its location in a beach community, this little library is located in a neighborhood full of boys. To that end, the library has books that specifically cater to the tastes of boy readers. This library was built by a 90-year-old woodworker from Holland, Michigan. It has several doors and compartments and is located lower to the ground so that its child friendly and handicap accessible. If you have nay question, please contact me. Thanks for visiting!

Anne and Harvey	Leo	14718	1617 Brooklyn Ave		Ann Arbor	MI		Our Little Library was assembled from just about all reclaimed materials and finds itself in our walkable, tree lined Burns Park neighborhood. We focused on keeping it within the character of our home and the surrounding homes in our neighborhood. Just a few blocks from the campus of the University of Michigan, lots of people (students, kids, professors, and vagabonds) can be found walking by our home daily. As for the library, outside is weathered barn wood that has been left in its natural condition with a little varnish to protect it. Inside, salvaged oak plank flooring, pine breadboard, and fine wood rafters can be found. A chalkboard for quick messages and an extra shelf help separate books. The exterior door and windows are salvaged cedar and the roof reclaimed cement board with our support post a reclaimed post. Finally the wooden handle on the door is from an old dresser that was sitting around and fit perfectly (compliments of Steve). Within 10 minutes of it being settled in, we had neighbors dropping off books and kids opening the door to explore. We hope people find it a happy place where our community can continue to share the love of reading we all have and explore the diverse world of good literature as we watch from our front porch.

Kathleen	Wright	16230	532 5th Street		Ann Arbor	MI		I'm a teacher, my husband is an illustrator/designer/carpenter, and everyone in our family loves books... it was only a matter of time! My husband designed and built ours to match our house, but what makes it extra special is his handcrafted, book-carrying owl, which serves as the library's mascot and bracket. We shelve books for kids and youth on the bottom, and books for adults above. We keep post-it notes and a pen available inside so people can leave a few words about a book on the cover, or leave a note for us posted on the library itself. I collect our notes in a scrapbook. Neighbors and passersby love it, and we love chatting with lots of folks. You can read my post about it on my teacher blog at kidpeopleclassroom.com

								COMMUNITY, EDUCATION, LITERACY. // We want to build community and encourage education and literacy in our Oak Park community with the Forest Street Little Free Library & Memorial Rock Garden. This "Little Free Library" serves the "9Crest" regions of Oak Park and Ferndale between Pinecrest, Scotia, Oak Park Boulevard and 9 Mile Road... and of course anyone else who happens by! We hosted a GoFundMe fundraiser to raise our modest $130 budget. Additionally, many of our materials are donated and recycled or upcycled. The base for the LFL was a side table. My father Terry really "rolled" with the reconstruction and sided and roofed the LFL, making it one of the only "sided houses" on our brick bungalow street. Even the mulch is recycled rubber and the bricks were donated from two families who no longer needed them. We have lived here for seven years and the last month has certainly been the most fruitful with regard to meeting new friends and neighbors. Kids and adults LOVE the library and so many people have thanked us. To sustain funds for the library, we decided to have Paypal donations on our site and, more importantly, open the LFL landscaping area and another of our garden beds to a memorial rock garden. For a suggested donation of $5, people can deliver and place a small memorial stone or tile honoring anything they care to as long as the wording is family-friendly. For a slightly higher donation, we will create and place the memorial stones for them. We track them all so they can be returned as well. This way we can further serve the community, maintain the library and, well, spread the love! This has been such a positive experience. We love it. - The Burgan Family

John	Gannon	15718	6516 Stinson Blvd. NE		Fridley	MN	Jane Ann Gannon	Our beloved wife, mom, grandma and retired librarian Jane Ann Gannon had the idea in the Fall of 2013 that she would like to build and install a Little Free Library in her front yard. So her husband John and three kids went to work to build her one. It was finished in November, but too cold to install it outside. Yet Jane enjoyed it on a side table in her living room all winter. She decorated it for Christmas, placing a nativity inside and lights and cotton snow on the roof of it. Then Jane began to get sick in January 2014, and was diagnosed with cancer in February. She fought hard, but passed away on May 1. The little library always made her smile while she bravely endured all her pain and suffering. We buried her ashes on June 7th, 2014, then followed that same day with a grand opening and ribbon-cutting ceremony for Jane's Little Free Library to honor her and celebrate her life-long mission to teach children the joy and value of reading. It has already become a sensation in the neighborhood, attracting kids and adults alike with all different kinds of books. "More fun to watch than the bird feeder" says John. One little girl even brought John pastries she made from a kid's cookbook she got from the library. Although Jane didn't get to see it installed, we like to think that she is still smiling down on her last, great project.

								Occupy Saint Paul's Little Free Library is like our organization itself, created to educate, inform, and entertain people with an increased awareness of issues impacting our democracy. We meet weekly at the Como Park Grill--outside of which stands our Little Free Library with the hospitality of the grill's co-owners, Steve and Christine Finnegan. Our core values statement says best what we as an organization and our Little Free Library represent: Occupy Saint Paul is a nonviolent organization committed to a just and democratic society, and it stands in solidarity with people around the globe who share this commitment. Our values are borne from our conviction that all people have human rights. Among these human rights are freedom of speech and religion, the right of self-determination, the right to privacy, the right to control their own bodies, to peacefully assemble, and to be treated with dignity and respect. We further believe that every human being deserves to be employed in meaningful work according to his or her skills and talents, with a living wage, in an economy that is sustainable and in harmony with the environment. Occupy Saint Paul embraces diversity and believes that all people have the right to common resources—environmental, cultural, and material—such as food, shelter, education, and health care regardless of race, belief, age, gender, or sexual orientation. We believe that these common resources must be shared in an equitable way. These are our core values, which we believe are the basis of a just and democratic society. Occupy Saint Paul is founded for the purpose of creating a society in accordance with these core values. Thank you to the Little Free Library organization for given our core values a voice. www.occupysaintpaul.org

One of those libraries was donated to Riverview's Gifted Education Program. A group of fifth grade gifted students decided to paint the library with familiar book characters, to inspire younger children to read. The group then collected books to fill the library and with the help of a parent, installed it outside the office doors of their school for people to have access to a free library year round. The Gifted Education Group will continue to maintain the library and keep it well stocked with books for readers of all ages.

Margaret	London	10209	4012 Zenith Ave. S.		Minneapolis	MN		I first read a story about Little Free Libraries in our local StarTribune in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Then I started seeing the Little Free Libraries spring up all around the city. When my father, a retired general contractor, was visiting from Fargo, North Dakota, I took him around to see all the LFLs I knew of. I thought he would get a kick out of it. A year later, he surprised me with a little free library he had made on his own! My LFL is the only one I have seen that has cedar-split, handmade shingles and real windows! We decorate it with lights during the winter months and with Heavenly Blue morning glory flowers in the summer. It gets great traffic, with lots of giving and taking happening. It brings me great joy to see someone stop by and leave with a book. My dad is a hero - I got the library registered as soon as I could and am proud to be part of the legions of folks around the world spreading literacy!

Jeanne	Prittinen	176	1028 First Street South		Virginia	MN		My husband bought the library for me for Christmas a couple of years ago. A lot of thought went into planning the library, which I wanted to be a little jewel on my block. My neighbor, Linda Cope painted the library mural, which depicts nordic gnomes reading in a woodland setting. The roof has titles of some of my favorite books represented, as well as a duplication of the cover of a book my daughter Natalie wrote when she was 10. The gnomes even have their own Little Free Library! My brother, Jim Kolstad, came up with the great bench design, which allows someone to sit and view a book before they take it. I love watching the reaction of people when they stop to see it. It makes me smile every time I look out my window!

John	Sievers	15367	915 9th Ave. NW		Rochester	MN		I teach English at Rochester Community and Technical College and I frequently interact with students who struggle with reading and writing. I think the best way for life-long learning to take place is through a healthy appetite for reading that begins early on in life. Because of this belief, I was excited when I saw my first Free Little Library. It made me realize I could promote a love of reading in my very own neighborhood while fostering sense of community at the same time. My family was just as excited about the project as I was, and now my wife and daughters often pass on their favorite books through the library! What a brilliantly simple concept that has the capacity to change lives for the better.

Marilyn	Matheny	16340	2304 30th Ave. So.		Minneapolis	MN	My son, Michael David Matheny.	The library is dedicated to my son, Michael, who died in 2012, at age 45. The art and images on the library are all related to books and to Holland, where he was born. There is a photo he took of a street bookseller in Amsterdam on the library. It pleases me to see it every day. My husband and I are avid book collectors of books on art, history, anthropology, Egyptology, psychology, neuroscience, all manner of crafts, and an occasional novel. We hope that the LFL will help us reduce the size of our collections. It has been well received in my neighborhood.

Cherie	Bennethum	14788	1421 Marion St.		St. Paul	MN		I am an English teacher and have wanted to have a Little Free Library at my home for a long time. I keep a few books in my trunk in case I come across a Little Free Library while I am out and about. I was attracted to the idea of connecting with my community through sharing my love of reading. My dad made a Little Free Library for me that looks like an old-fashioned schoolhouse. I enjoy checking to see what's new in it.

Welcome	Jerde	4477	3400 Dupont Ave. S.		Minneapolis	MN		First Universalist Church's LFL is the work of one of our youth, Nathaniel Larson. He built the library, a book shelf for the social hall of the church to store books, and conducted a book drive, all for his Boy Scout Eagle Award. The community surrounding the church has many apartment buildings and rental units, therefore, there are very few LFLs. This project is an outreach of the church.
Barb	Brandt	14963	20500 Jacquard Ave.		Lakeville	MN		The Girl Scouts of Troop 24710 chose to build the My Little Free Library as their Silver Award Project to promote literacy in their community of Lakeville MN. The girls were in charge of the book drive at the Lakeview elementary school and as a result many families donated over 500 books for the free library. The Girl Scouts built & installed the free library on the school campus. Currently, many families within the Lakeview Elementary area are using the free library. The Girl Scouts are very proud of the library they built!

Anderson	Tosha	12123	613 Main Street		Henderson	Mn		Our Little Free Library popped up in our front yard the Summer of 2014. We have children and adult books in it. While the library is of course FREE, and book donations are welcome, we also invite you to check out the city of Henderson Public Library only a block away from our library, where Tosha is an employee. Very fond memories have been made in the libraries we remember from childhood, and our current libraries. A second library was created to sit beside our Little Free Library. After a 2011 diagnosis of Melanoma cancer for Tosha, and then a recurrence in 2013, we decided it was our mission to educate people on the topic of skin cancer. Voila! A little Free Melanoma Cancer Information Library was born. Please check it out. Tell your friends, wear sunscreen and stay sun safe! Happy Trails!
Molly	Schuster	15014	11407 Pennsylvania Ave N		Champlin	MN	Our kids, whom we want to know the joy of reading!	This library was a Mother's Day gift from my husband, and was inspired by our two kids. We want them to love reading as we do, and this has been an amazing project to get them excited about learning new things and finding new adventures! And along the way, neighbors, friends and family have joined in the experience. The button designs on the box, and the shades of blue were all chosen by our 7-year-old daughter. All the neighbor kids and our nieces and nephew helped to paint it.

Ben	Kressel	5551	6101 Dupont Ave S		Minneapolis	MN	All teachers & learners!	We fell in love with this idea as soon as we saw it and were fortunate to have help from friends in getting it together. Thanks to Rob & Jenny for hooking us up, and John for building our "Book Box"! Plus special thanks to Jane for hand painting it. It wouldn't really be ours without the flamingo studying peace on the back! We stock our LFL with kids books and books that promote broadening perspectives (all reading kind of does though, doesn't it?). Lots of neighbors use it though and books cycle in and out so you never know what you will find in there. We love our LFL, not just for promoting reading but, because it is an activity center and a community builder. Seeing kids get excited about books is a truly special thing to witness and participate in!

Someone commented that all the garden needed was a Little Free Library and so the story begins. Many businesses contributed to funding the library. My neighbor, Eric, built the library, and it is now a work in progress. Our school mascot is the Gators, and eventually the library will resemble a nine-foot gator in a gravel garden. The library has become a welcome addition to a rather rural, but busy, highway and many passers-by comment on how it has dressed up a rather dull corner.

Lynn	Arnold	15500	103 3rd Av West		Grand Marais	MN		I know that living in a remote area can isolate people, even though they may live near a small town that has a conventional library already in place. And I know that there are readers in the county in which we live who may never know that they share a passion for certain authors or types of literature with another who lives tucked away in our county. So I told my friend and contractor Matt Geretschlaeger that I wanted him to build a box for me, giving him general dimensions and saying that the box needed to be weather proof. He disappeared inside his work building and created a beautiful structure. I painted it purple, orange, and green, colors which attract people because they are not usually combined in a building. I knew the box was special since it was the first in the town and maybe in the county. I went to the weekly newspaper's office and told them the story and the editor came right out to my house and took pictures and wrote it all up in the next week's edition. Now people I don't know come up to me and say that they have stopped at my library and have taken books and donated books. I'm so excited that I was able to give something to this community which took me in two and a half years ago when I moved up here to the most beautiful country in the state.

Callie	BushMiller	16280	10835 Pierce St NE		Blaine	MN	Lauretta Klimek	When I was looking for a creative project for the summer break, I stumbled upon the idea of a Little Free Library. It was the perfect project for a family that includes 2 teachers and kids who love to read. Once the library was designed, built, and ready to be placed, I thought about a bench that I had in storage for nearly 15 years. It belonged to my Grandmother. It had been in the corner of her entryway throughout my childhood. It was a "Gossip Bench" that held her phone its top shelf. I would often sit near her when she talked on the phone. I loved hearing her voice, especially the words she spoke in Italian when she got excited about a topic... or upset with someone on the line. I decided the bench would be a perfect addition to our Library site. I cleaned, refinished, and reupholstered the bench and re-landscaped the area for the library. We now have a beautiful, peaceful place to sit and read books from the library. One final addition we made to the library was to paint the roof with chalkboard paint. My Grandma was a very creative, artistic woman who spent some time as an aide in an art classroom. She always encouraged us to be creative and artistic. She would love it if people in the neighborhood left pictures or notes on the library. For you, Grandma...
Richard	Graham	10670	608 Eddy St		Hastings	MN		The library is a Christmas gift from Nora, Nell and Calley and their families. It is fun to watch who comes to our front yard to look for a book out of our Little Free Library. Kids love it. We have to keep stocking up on kids books.
Bridget	Hirata	17166	5752 Morgan Ave S		Minneapolis	MN		Our Little Free Library is something our children and I always wanted to have. Upon moving into our new home, this was put on the to do list. My husband created this library from his own design, using left over bamboo fencing pieces from our fence that he recently bought. We read a lot in our home and love the idea of sharing our books with neighbors and the community.

Jennifer	Lee	16528	25532 South Main Street		Nisswa	MN		Fish Tales was born from an idea of my husband, Dan. Having ties to the original Lund Boat builders, he used his memories to design and build our LFL. Upon completion, the library was donated to the City of Nisswa and placed by the new Welcome Center where visitors and residents can share their love of books.
Annette	Brown	17213	4244 Lynn AVE		Edina	MN		Our library contains books from a boy and a girl of different ages, and some little-kid books. Frances (see girl above) reads a lot. Some of her favorite authors are J.K. Rowling, Kierra Cass, Carl Hiaassen. Mom has been in a book club for over 10 years and will be contributing past reads. Both mom and dad enjoy non-fiction so expect some of those too.

Sarah	Burcham	13001	6227 Minnesota Ave		Saint Louis	MO	Mr. Miyagi	We love our neighborhood in the old town of Carondelet. It's a gritty river town that's part of Saint Louis with its roots in industry along the river, French colonialism, and beautiful brick architecture. Like many river cities, Saint Louis has struggled financially and neighborhoods that were once landmark communities have declined. Living on a beautiful corner in the heart of Carondelet is wonderful. Most of the time we love it and the constant hum of the Mississippi River in the background reminds us of where we are, who we are, and that the world is so much greater. We wanted to pay something forward and when we discovered Little Free Library we knew we had the perfect thing to add to the elementary school corner bus stop. We couldn't be happier starting up our library and even happier for being able to provide a value added service to our community! Good reading, Sarah & Geoff

Martha	Bledsoe	10506	301 North Fulton		Butler	MO	Lille Roth Hatten	When Lillie Hatten's family began to think of ideas to celebrate her 90th birthday, the idea of installing a Little Library in her honor began to gel. Lillie's three children, Dr. Rob Hatten, Marianna Hatten, and Martha Hatten Bledsoe, all inherited a love of reading from their mother. Lillie has spent over 50 years promoting education and reading through her membership in the P.E.O. Sisterhood and the Butler Public Library Association. To share this passion for reading with the Butler community seemed a fitting tribute. The placement of the library at the Presbyterian Church, of which Lillie has been a member for over 60 years, seemed to be a perfect fit. Not only is it easy to spot, but it's close to the Butler Youth Center with easy access for people who use the Center. Books on all reading levels and topics are included in the library. "Lillie's Little Library" will help promote literacy and the love of reading in the Butler community as people of all generations share books and book discussions. Martha and Marianna did the research and the big box with the Little Free Library arrived in time for Lillie's birthday. Rob did the final assembly, all of the lovely painting and decorating and installation. The Dedication was 6/10/2014 with the local press covering the event! A Chamber of Commerce Ribbon Cutting and Grand Opening will be later in June. Come on by and browse, take a book and leave a book. Happy Reading!
Jan	Dye	15328	2222 Bluff Blvd.		Columbia	MO		As a young person, I wanted to be a librarian, but life led me down a different path. When I heard the Little Free Library story, I was charmed by the idea and knew I had to participate. My library contains a variety of children and adult books; I try to include some classics and unusual selections. I hope the box will be a source of enjoyment for all who walk by.
Gina	Lange	15392	9123 N Camden Ave		Kansas City	MO		Our library was started as a service project for our kids to share their books with others. It is my hope that it will increase their love of reading by sharing books with others. The boys and I went to a local thrift store, bought a small table, sanded it and painted it together. It is filled with some of our favorite books as well as favorites from our friends.
Linda	Locke	10661	6925 Cornell Ave		University City	MO	Rory Ellinger	Rory Ellinger was an avid reader all of his 72 years, as a scholar, lawyer, legislator and social justice advocate. He was captivated by the concept of Little Free Libraries. His wife and children gave him one for Christmas 2013. It was installed in March, when the ground was warm enough for his son to dig a hole. He loved watching people browse the books. He became very ill and died in April 2014. It keeps his spirit alive.
Julie	Hull	11861	7411 Jefferson St		Kansas City	MO		We live in a wonderful old neighborhood (home was built in 1914) and Little Free Libraries have been appearing around us, so we wanted to get one as we love to read. Reggie (next door) installed it for us and made the supports into wooden books. The Little Prince on one, The Giving Tree on the other. What makes this timing great is earlier this week over in another part of the city, some curmudgeon complained about a little library and it was removed. Quite the chatter. Glad I'm not in that neighborhood

Gretchen	Walsh	13650	7410 Pennsylvania Ave		Kansas City	MO		While driving around Kansas City, Bradley noticed a little library in the Hyde Park Neighborhood. He quickly brought his wife, Gretchen (a teacher and book lover) to investigate. Gretchen decided that this would be an exciting addition to their neighborhood and requested that Bradley immediately begin constructing a little library of their own. Bradley designed their library as a replica of their home. In April of 2014, Gretchen and Bradley opened their little free library with a ribbon cutting and reception (Gretchen made treats from some of her favorite books). Several other little libraries popped up in their neighborhood around the same time, and books have been circulating ever since!

Linda	Hartman	12884	4668 SW Soldier Dr.	The Fountains at Raintree Lake	Lee's Summit	MO		Our LFL was initiated by the Blue Stocking Book Club with funds and a collection of books to get us started. The decision was made to locate the library in our subdivision because several members live there. Our neighborhood is made of mostly retired persons who took up the challenge to build, paint, and continue funding the project. Now that we have officially dedicated the library (actually baptized with holy water from our lovely fountain), the library is experiencing heavy circulation of great titles.
Mason	Family	15533	215 W Edwards Street		Maryville	MO		Last year, we were walking along a beach in Southwest Florida, and noticed a library that provided books to anyone who would like to take one. Each morning, the library would appear, and each evening, it would disappear. We researched ideas for us to provide a similar opportunity in our community - one that was permanent, weather proof and child friendly, and came upon the Little Free Library website. I am an Instructor at Horace Mann Laboratory School on the campus of Northwest Missouri State University and have always had a passion for literacy and literacy development. My classroom is filled with thousands of books, and it brings me great joy when I see my students making connections to books that they like to read and want to read. So many of the books that we've placed in our library are personal favorites that we've read to our own children or have enjoyed reading ourselves. My husband, Sam, took the vision that we had about our little library and brought it to fruition. Our little library was our dream turned into reality - and he built it to resemble our beautiful, historic home.

J	Wensel	16569	101 E. Kansas St.		Liberty	MO		This Little Free Library is located inside the Liberty City Hall in downtown Liberty, Missouri. The City of Liberty, Historic Downtown Liberty, Inc., and the Mid-Continent Public Library have contributed to this Little Library and encourage others to install their own around town.
Jan	Sauer	14528	121 Oak Boulevard		Waveland	MS		After 5,000 mysteries of ours were swept away by hurricane Katrina along with our house, David has diligently worked to restore our library. Sometimes too diligently. So there are lots of books we'd like to share with others and will use to restock the Free Library. Retired academic librarian Jan will insure that the British Phone box/library is always filled. Our children all went together to get this for Jan on the occasion of her birthday, July 4, 2014.
Wendy	Naron	15363	119 Fawnwood Drive		Brandon	MS		I am a retired teacher and have lots of books just sitting in my bookcase. My son built my little library so I could share the joy of reading with our neighbors.
Ellen	Meacham	7086	12 Main Street		Taylor	MS		Taylor has a population of about 320 people and is home to many artists and musicians. It's also the only place name that William Faulkner did not change in his novels.
BERTHA	PAGE	14948	323 NORTH HAUGH STREET		PICAYUNE	MS	PAISLEY CLAIRE SHEASBY	This is truly the story of ROTARY and the Power of one. Proof of the power of one Rotarian Tod Bol of Hudson, WI who decided to honor his mother, a teacher who loved to read, by building a small lending library in the shape of a birdhouse. That was in 2009. Today there are more than 16,000 Little Free Libraries in at least 55 countries. This will be the 8th in Mississippi. It wasn't until March 2014 that the Rotarian magazine published an article on the phenomenal growth of an idea from one person. Now local Rotary Clubs around the world are building them in their towns. And so it was the same here. Rotarian Bertha Page decided that the Picayune Club should build one for our town. Again the power of one. And now a second LFL is being constructed as an Eagle Scout project here in Picayune. Although it started with one, there were many people involved in the design, building and implementation of Picayune Rotary Clubs LFL. Bertha Page, Bill Roberts, Jeremy Sheasby, Debra Scharff, Sarah Smith and many more who donated resources, installed the library and those who are continuing to donate books. In the near future we will be dedicating this LFL to the memory of Paisley Claire Sheasby.
vivian	rosquist	15326	5006 23rd Avenue		Missoula	MT		We first saw a little free library while on vacation in Seattle. It struck a chord with me immediately that I would like to bring the idea to my own home in Missoula. My husband became heavily involved when I put the little library on my Christmas list last year. He built it for me and I decorated it and filled it with its initial stock. Neighbors, immediately noticed and offered to help. Since it was mounted, in May, we have seen several new books and others missing. I have borrowed from it myself and passed those books on to friends. The biggest need is for more and more varied children's fare. The project has been a delight!
Clay & Kathy	Williams	13687	Corner of Clark Street W & Elliot Street S		Wilsall	MT		We learned of the story of the Little Free Library when we visited a Little Library on 3rd Street in Hudson, WI. where our daughter lives with her family. We thought that our little town of Wilsall could enjoy something like this too! This could be a way to put our little town on the map and connect us with all of the Little Free Libraries world wide! We are so happy to have our Little Library installed and we hope that it will be used and enjoyed for years and years to come!

Carol	Cole	12272	171 Sylvan Drive		Bigfork	MT		I first heard about the Little Free Library program from a Kalispell, MT newspaper. Because I was a teacher, I thought this was a wonderful idea! Reading is the key to everything! We are lucky to live in Montana during the summer months and we have lots of walkers on our rural road. I thought this would be a great place to put a Little Free Library. It will only be available during the summer months because we will need to bring it in during the winter. I have a variety of books that will hopefully appeal to a wide audience. What could be better than sitting on the deck overlooking Flathead Lake and reading a wonderful book?
Jessi	Gerdes	16197	207 S Third St		Gardiner	MT		Located just two blocks from Yellowstone's north entrance, we hope that locals and visitors alike will be able to utilize our Little Free Library.
Pam	Bailey	16155	955 Carousel Way		Helena	MT		With a generous contribution of books to get us started and the crafty hands of Nate Cummings one of our staff Camp Counselors, The Little Lending Library at ExplorationWorks! became a reality. Judy	Malloy	13977	110 Lochwood West Dr		Cary	NC	All the children who love books	The Story of the Lochwood West Little Free Library (110 Lochwood West Dr, Cary NC 27518) By Judy Malloy How it all began: As a child, I was the kid who would be curled up with a book even when my friends were playing and having fun. My eight year old granddaughter Taylor, is the same way. That's why when I read an article in the December 2013 issue of "Our State" magazine about the Little Free Library in Durham NC, I jumped on the idea. We live in the perfect neighborhood for such a library: friendly, walking, talking, bike riding and kids playing neighbors. After spending some time reading over the LittleFreeLibrary.org website, I ran my idea past neighbors and family and got a positive response. From my grandchildren and the neighborhood children, I got an overwhelming response! They all wanted to be part of it. We spent hours, planning and talking and deciding which of the kids would be responsible for different parts of the care of our Little Free Library. My family owns a custom-home building business; who better to build a home for our library? Our business, Brightleaf Development Co would fund the venture and my son, Shane agreed to build it and present it to me as a Mother's Day gift. The next step was to go online to Little Free Library and register for our charter. But, what would it look like? Design: North Carolina is one of the very few fortunate states to be blessed with a long coastline on the Atlantic. Our family (as well as many of our neighbors) have spent numerous happy vacations at the beach. To celebrate our state and the majestic lighthouses on our shores, we decided to design the: "Lochwood West Little Free Library Lighthouse". Shane came up with a plan and worked many weekends to bring it to the painting stage. At which point we had promised the kids that they could paint it. And they Did! Paint covered and happy they finished with a job; amazingly, well done. Setting: The perfect setting was a no-brainer. Next to our house and our neighbor's is a shady patch on the street between our mailboxes and across from a cul-de-sac. The traffic slows down because of the side street, making it safe, very visible and easily accessible for walkers, talkers, and riders. We decided to place a bench next to the lighthouse, mainly because the kids would spend hours sitting on the ground (and the street) reading and organizing the books. Getting the Word Out: While my husband Bernie was building the stone foundation on our property by the street, he was constantly interrupted by "walkers and talkers and riders" asking about his work. I got busy using the template on the Little Free Library website writing up an announcement about our endeavor. With seven (very) enthusiastic kids we stuffed mailboxes with the "Lochwood West Little Free Library Lighthouse" flyer. Living with the Lighthouse Library: The kids and I stocked the library with our own well read books. We wrote reviews and pasted them into the cover page, leaving blank "review templates" available so that others could do the same. We were hoping for an impromptu Lighthouse Book Club! Almost immediately neighbors began browsing through the books and leaving new ones behind. As I pull into my driveway, home from work, I see people stopping to talk to each other and look through the books. I have met neighbors for the first time, who have lived nearby for years. I see kids sitting on the bench in the summer shade, books in hand, giggling, laughing and having fun. I am "Back to the Future" as a kid, with my own book in hand. Thank You Little Free Library!

The Loop is a renowned walking, running, jogging circle around Wrightsville Beach. The Sand Crab Cottage is a seaside sanctuary for all who enter and stay there. Reading on the porch, at the beach, in any of the cozy nooks inside the cottage, is a favorite past time. 								Not long after I came on board with the Chamber in Summer 2013, I was bouncing ideas off of one of our Chamber members and shared my desire to have a lending library here at the Visitors Center. That Chamber member told me about www.littlefreelibrary.org . I have a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and am a former English teacher, so reading is not only my preferred hobby but also my passion to share with others. Although I support reading in any form, including via tablets, I never want to know the world without books, and I am so happy that we have created a space to help people share books they have enjoyed with others. Of course, I became busy with other Chamber work, but I kept the idea in the back of my mind as something I really wanted to do. Several months later, I shared my idea with one of our new Chamber board members Nina Angle, who with husband Matthew operate Anglewood Kitchens & Design. Nina told me that she just happened to know a master cabinet maker. Nina told her husband that I needed help making something special happen for the Chamber and that his particular talents were needed. Nina then explored the Little Free Library website and found some examples that she liked and shared them with me and Matthew. We wanted to put the Lake Gaston touch on the library with rustic materials and natural colors. Both the Angles and I like to repurpose materials, and that is probably the aspect of the library that we are most proud of. The entire library is made from recycled pallet materials. Even the paint used was leftover paint from other jobs that Nina used to create a blue wash. Only two items were purchased for the library – the glass for the door and the door hinges. Matthew even put a wrinkle finish on the new hinges to make them look old. Matthew started with a crate and cut boards from a pallet to create the roof, door and legs. Many people saw the Little Free Library in progress and thought it was a very large and artsy bird house. Nina said, "Whenever you ask a cabinet maker to make anything, it is never done halfway." Nina and Christina collaborated on the sign – Take one. Leave one. Repeat. (kind of like the instructions on a shampoo bottle) – and Nina used stencils to create the signs. The LKG Little Free Library was truly a labor of love from start to finish. Nina and Matthew said they were proud to help create the library for the Chamber, so everyone can open the door to new reading adventures.

Even after just a few days, other folks are leaving books. I believe that this will be a diverse and compelling of books. The library, when full, will hold about 200 volumes.

Jennifer	LeClair	17912	27 Kimball Hill Rd		Hudson	NH		When I came across the idea to become a Steward for a Little Free Library, I was intrigued because of my love of books, but didn't think it was an option for me since Little Free Libraries are usually put on people's front yards and sidewalks. Then one day walking through Benson's Park, and seeing all of the wonderful volunteers who make the park such a beautiful place working so hard, I wanted to give something back and contribute to the park my family enjoys so often. The Park is so rich in history and culture already, and it even has the literary reference of the Old Woman Who Lives in a Shoe, so a free book exchange really completes the picture. Books are truly magical, and so is nature. People and their children can enjoy a book while in the park, and have one more reason to come back. After I presented the idea and received approval from the Town of Hudson - Benson's Committee, my husband Derek, of AlphaCon LLC Additions & Remodeling, designed and built the Library. We wanted it to hold more books than the average Little Free Library since it would be in a park, so Derek made it two stories with a children's book annex off the side. The most important thing is that it is water-tight and sturdy enough for everyday use, but that definitely wasn't a problem for my husband since he builds REAL houses every day! I'm so happy with the finished product, he did such a beautiful job. After I did some local event, newspaper, and Facebook promotion, our Grand Opening Book Drive was on July 13, 2014 and has been very well-received by the community. We even had Benson's Bakery, Veria Pizza, and Wally's Pizza generously donate food for our event. We've been getting a lot of positive feedback including a couple of anonymous little notes inside. I'm so glad people are enjoying it so much. I often receive generous donations from our local library children's room to help keep it stocked. One of my favorite things about being a Steward is seeing all of the different titles that come through. The books and subjects are so vast and varied, it really shows the personality and culture of the community as a whole. The Benson's Little Free Library truly belongs to the community, and I am honored to be the Steward. The Benson's Park Little Free Library is centrally located in the park - between the gorilla cage and the A-Frame on the path across from the open field, and on the way to the brook. It has a Facebook Page, facebook.com/bensonparkslittlefreelibrary and I am always accepting book donations to add to the library even if it is full. I visits it almost daily to make sure it's kept neat and stocked. The Official Plaque reads, "Nature and books belong to all who see them." - Ralph Waldo Emerson

Sharon	Vincz	15814	Library Company of Burlington	23 West Union Street	Burlington	NJ		The Library Company of Burlington was established in 1759 and chartered by King George II. the library has been in continuous operation for 256 years. It is the second oldest library in New Jersey and the seventh oldest in the nation. The Library Company of Burlington was the recipient of 3 "Little Free Libraries" on behalf of an Eagle Scout project by E. Anderson. Eric transformed our "Children's Reading Garden" into a magical place for the neighborhood kids to sit and read a book from the "Little Free Library". We are excited to be able to extend our library services to everyone! The Library Company of Burlington 23 West Union Street Burlington, NJ 08016 www.librarycompanyofburlington.org

MacNutt and her husband, Merle Pratt, gave the Library to the Little Harbour Community, and placed it at the Presbyterian Church Yard where there is easy access by the community.
Anne	Dillman	9661	210 Big Shaw Lake		Murchyville	NS (Nova Scotia)	Rescue Dogs	Our Little Free Library combined many of our loves. Our love of dog rescue, our love of our cottage and our love of literacy. There are dog books and magazines offered as well as general books for all ages. Book marks listing local reputable dog rescues are in the making and will be offered for free as well. A bench on which to rest and view the lake is available as well as dog bowls of water and potty bags. The library was made entirely from recycled items right down to the latches that keep the double doors shut. The latches are a used nylabone cut in half and kindly donated by one of our forever dogs. It is in the shape of the bow of a boat, a nod to our many happy years spent at the lake. The Little Free Library has gotten the seal of approval of many a "happy camper" at Big Shaw Lake!!!

The library is in memory of Gail Eisen an amazing woman, wife, mother, sister, friend and teacher. She worked as an elementary school teacher for many years and gave the gift of reading to hundreds of children before she was taken by ALS. We hope this library shares her love of reading with hundreds more children so her spirit lives on.
Michael	Wesolowski	13508	5583 Field Brook Drive		East Amherst	NY		I wanted to teach my son about community involvement. What better way than by building a LFL? We soon learned that the entire globe is our community. Via our Kickstarter campaign, we received funding from not only our own neighborhood, but from coast to coast in the US, and even from the UK, Canada, Sweden, Germany, New Zealand, and Australia. It's a small world after all indeed! Our LFL has the names of 95 authors and 1 musician engraved in cedar wood. The two display windows on either side of the library are able to show any 4x6 photo - authors, book covers, famous quotes about books or reading can all be updated instantly. This will give our neighbors something new to see every time they stroll by. The door is shaped like the silhouette of an open book, and solar lights cast a soft glow at night. We hope our Little Free Library is one more element that helps build a stronger neighborhood for years to come.
Terri	Ercole	14967	431 Jay Street	Charles Settlement House	Rochester	NY		Our library is in the heart of the JOSANA neighborhood between the elementary school and community center. Marta	Carney	14273	9485 Boxwood Drive		Clarence Center	NY		More than 25 years ago, I made a doll house bookshelf for my daughter, Jessie, to help nurture a love of reading and imaginative play. She outgrew the bookshelf, but never her love of books. The bookshelf moved with us through many homes and memories over the years with no specific intended purpose – until I came upon the Little Free Library concept in an attempt to donate books. With the help of my son Michael, we trimmed it out, fitted it with the door, and weatherproofed it. (It was important to me to keep the charming vintage wallpaper and cedar shingles as they were – I hope they hold up!). It is an honor to donate this Little Free Library to my community in the hope that it will continue to encourage a love of reading and imaginative play in us all.

Deidre	Stammers	16724	861 Merrick Road		Baldwin	NY		Our Little Free Library, like most others, was a labor of love. It sits outside the Glory Beeezzz Thrift Shop in Baldwin, NY, on a street that gets a lot of foot traffic. The steward of the library also owns and operates Glory Beeezzz, so in addition to getting a caretaker that is literally within a few feet of the library six days a week, the library never has to worry about being empty. If the books finding homes outnumber the donations coming in, Glory Beeezzz' owner, Deidre Stammers, supplements it with books from the shop. Within a week of its installation, at least one of the three shelves gets emptied daily! Some mornings, the shop is opened with a fresh bag of donated books having been left outside the door. Word has spread quickly, and Baldwin's Little Free Library has been embraced by the community.

Kellie	DuBay Gillis	9871	19164 Henry Rd.		Fairview Park	OH		Our Little Free Library was a family project, built in October 2013. We wanted it to be a place where folks could not only share books, but also leave messages. There are six big circles painted with chalkboard paint on the sides of the library and a bucket with chalk. We love it when visitors leave us messages about what they're reading or just to say Hi! This spring we had to add a shelf so we could hold more books! Thanks to our Little Free Library, we have met so many wonderful people in our community and have shared great books!

A former student of mine, Campbell Tuel, happened upon a Little Free Library near Cincinnati, OH, and sent me a message telling me that this would be perfect for me and my book addiction. I had shared my love of reading in my classroom starting back in the early 70's, but I recently retired in 2012. My husband is quite handy so I put it on a list for him to build and finally 18 mos. later, Voila! The art of Mary Engelbreit filled my classroom for decades so I felt it only appropriate to feature her illustrations in our design.

Jodi	Fuhr	14362	1745 Garwood Dr.		Lancaster	OH		I have a life-long love affair with books. From the moment I discovered the Little Free Library movement, I knew I wanted to be involved. I'm so honored to be able to participate and share my love of reading with my neighborhood. The Garwood Drive LFL was built by my husband Jaime Fuhr and was painted with love by me. We hope you'll stop by if you're in the area.

John	Stuart	16180	2581 3rd St		Syracuse	OH	BSA Troop 299	MAYOR DEDICATES "LITTLE FREE LIBRARY" EAGLE SCOUT PROJECT SYRACUSE, OH, July 7, 2014-- Syracuse Mayor Eric Cunningham announced the opening last Thursday evening of the Mid-Ohio Valley's first "Little Free Library", a local Eagle Scout project, just in time for the Independence Day holiday weekend. The Little Free Library, built and installed last week on the Syracuse Village Hall grounds by John M. Stuart and Pomeroy Boy Scout Troop 299 as part of Stuart's requirements for the rank of Eagle Scout, is a self-serve "books in a box" mini-lending library operating 24/7 under the honor system motto, "Take A Book, Return A Book." In the mayor's July 3rd proclamation, he dedicated the Library "to the people of Syracuse and Meigs County, Ohio" on behalf of Troop 299, and announced it immediately open to the public. Cunningham noted the Village is promoting the Little Free Library on the Village's Facebook pages to help get the word out. He said he was excited about the new community addition, and that the location is ideally situated adjacent to the Village Hall main parking lot and London Pool, and near regular foot traffic passing by Village Hall offices. Stuart, 17, a Life Scout and member of Scoutmaster Greg McCall's BSA Troop 299 since 2009, says he has nearly completed the Eagle rank, with construction of his Little Free Library project one of the final steps toward accomplishing the goal. After seeing it remarked on in Better Homes & Gardens magazine, Stuart's older sister Angela, a former London Pool lifeguard, mentioned the Little Free Library idea to him, and he quickly took interest. Stuart discovered that there are Little Free Libraries all over the U.S. and the world, and an international non-profit organization, LittleFreeLibrary.org, promotes, registers and coordinates establishment of the community projects. "I knew that Meigs County has public libraries in Racine, Middleport, Pomeroy, and the Tappers Plains area. But Syracuse just stood out because I used to live there, and it doesn't have a library. So I thought I'd do something about that," Stuart observed. Stuart noted that the nearest existing official Little Free Library is in Logan, Ohio, over an hour's drive from Syracuse. So Stuart sought and gained approval to proceed from his local Boy Scouts leadership and the Mayor, and had soon garnered donations for most of the materials through the generosity of John Thomas of Valley Lumber & Supply Co. of Middleport. Stuart purchased a few remaining materials but also received some support from Lowe's of Vienna, W. Va., Dettwiller's True Value Hardware of Pomeroy, and King's ACE Hardware of Middleport. Stuart supplied the bulk of the labor to build the weather-proof box itself, with some guidance from his dad, while McCall and the troop contributed most of the foundation and installation work. Stuart said that he is in the process of officially registering the Library with LittleFreeLibrary.org, so it will be listed on their web site and world map, along with GPS coordinates. He has also ordered a sign with the official national logo, and anticipates having it within a couple weeks. Stuart figures he's personally volunteered over 75 hours of his time to the entire project, with dozens more donated by others. He continued, "I hope people especially in that part of Meigs County will enjoy having some free books to read and sharing some of their favorites with others. I also hope the box lasts a long time and people will help look after it, I tried to make it pretty solid. And by the way, if anybody wants to make another one, just email me at john@ohmstuart.com-- I'm glad to share what I learned."

Youngstown	Rotary	15886	17 N. Champion St.		Youngstown	OH	Rotary Club of Youngstown	The Rotary Club of Youngstown, Ohio will be 100 years old this Rotary year 2014-2014. This LFL is in celebration of that mark in our timeline, literacy being a Rotary International focus. It was built by a member of our club. It is located in the same YMCA building as our Rotary office and meeting place. The Director of this "Y" is also a Rotarian. The books to start us off were all donated by Rotarians.
Heather	Davis	11902	1048 Meadow Drive		Bartlesville	OK		Our family has wanted to do host a Free Little Library for a few years now, but we'd never gotten around to making it happen. Through the generosity of Post Alpha-Bits, we were gifted a library and are proud to have it at our home. Our library contains books for all ages from the tiniest of readers/listeners to the adults who like to escape into a book. Can't wait to see you and have you exchange a book of your own!
Sue	Kilmer	13309	Yukon Review Newspaper	110 S 5th Street	Yukon	OK		Our Ladies Library Club is encouraging citizens to participate in the Little Free Library program. In order to encourage people, we are placing 1/2 dozen or so structures in our community. As I was completing the installation of this "library", the first gentleman came to take advantage of it being in his neighborhood! How rewarding that was. I'm anxious to report to the library club that they are indeed going to be popular in our community!

A few weeks later back home in Ontario I was trying to figure out what to do with some copies of great books we had read and no longer had any room for on the library shelf. My wife reminded me of the Little Free Library and I checked it out on the website. After downloading plans from the site, I then proceeded to build my Little Free Library using wood harvested from my own property. It has only been up for a couple of weeks and already many people go out of their way to say how much they appreciate the community building symbolism of having the Little Free Library in our subdivision. The dog walkers were the first to spot it and gradually people have started to take or leave books.

Derk/Gary	Steenblik/Payne	12373	183 Grosvenor Avenue South		Hamilton	ON		We officially opened on Sunday, June 15th, 2014 with our local ward city council representative Bob Morrow on hand to cut the red ribbon. Media coverage was provided by CHCH News (the local television station), the Hamilton Spectator (local paper), Hamilton Magazine and the Crown Point Newspaper (neighbourhood community newspaper). More than 60 people attended the opening which began with a neighbour playing the bagpipes for everyone. Donations of books were welcomed at this time, although the library was already stocked, and once our Little Free Library opened its doors, the book exchanges began.
Derk/Gary	Steenblik/Payne	12373	183 Grosvenor Avenue South		Hamilton	ON		Our Little Free Library opened on Sunday, June 15, 2014 following a call to the opening by the playing of bagpipes by one our neighbours, Charles Meanwell. Our city council ward representative, Bob Morrow, was on hand to cut the red ribbon for the official opening. Media coverage was present in the form of CHCH TV (Hamilton television station), the Hamilton Spectator (newspaper), Hamilton Magazine, and Crown Point Newspaper (community bi-monthly newspaper). Forty to sixty people were in attendance for the opening following which there was a great donation of books which immediately started being exchanged. Our library contains a Visitor's Log/Comment/Book Review journal. Since we have opened, numerous people have dropped to donate and take books and leave lots of positive remarks in the journal.

Adam	Scime	9539	550 Clinton St		Toronto	ON		Two dear friends, who love to read, decided to build a Little Free Library after seeing one of these magical boxes online. Over the course of the winter we painted and assembled the library and come the summer time, we put it in the ground! We had so much fun with this project!

Peggy	Read	16428	343 Rankin Dr		Burlington	ON		Heidi saw several LFLs in Toronto while walking her dog. She said, "Mom, you need one of these!" And so it began. We downloaded plans from Dale Melenberg of Calgary, bought our materials and got to work. Within a week we had built and installed the library, a blue box that's bigger on the inside, and filled it with books. Our friends and co-workers were eager to donate books, and we picked up more from thrift stores. Our launch party a week later was quiet, but lots of neighbourhood kids came and their parents were all quite interested. We filled them in on the LFL concept and how the library works. I have seen walkers looking inside the box and new books have appeared. We even leave a plastic box in a protected spot in case the library is full and someone wants to leave more books. My street has lots of foot traffic on the way to the local elementary schools, dog walkers and people out for walks with their friends. Our local paper wrote a great article with photos. We did it ourselves from scratch, we're the first LFL in Burlington ON, and we're excited for this to take off and be successful!

Juanita	Metzger	16553	217 Waterloo Street		Kitchener	ON		We love arts & literature! The Library of "As You Wish" has become a perfect way to combine our love of both. The painting on the back is a fun discovery for curious visitors and was painted by local Kitchener artist, James Nye. Our theme is "100% good literary fiction. No pulp." This library is full of surprises, including the design. It must be seen from all angles to be enjoyed!
Beth	Kaplan	8701	308 Sackville St.		Toronto	ON
Ruth	Sonksen	15823	1100 Grande Montee, RR1, Box 15,		Chute a Blondeau	ON		Ruth worked for many years as a librarian at McGill university in Montreal. Then one day she read an article about the 'Little Free Library' in the 'Rotarian Magazine', and decided that this would be the perfect way for her to 'stay in the library business!' So she asked her husband, Knud, to build a library box - and provide it with both an English and a French sign, as it would be located in a bilingual area, right at the border of Ontario and Quebec (at Chute a Blondeau and Pointe Fortune).
Juli	Maus	8762	5420 N Interstate Ave		Portland	OR	Trillium Charter School Community	This Little Free Library is nestled into the cob wall that runs along the front of our small K-12 Charter school and Pre-K program. The nook has been there unused for years. This year the PTA had the idea of fixing up the broken glass good, attaching a shelf and making it a Little Free Library for our wider community to enjoy. Luckily for us in Portland, OR there are many other located near by. We dedicated our LFL on a warm spring evening during our monthly Family Fun Night. The theme was "ice cream social". Families came to enjoy ice cream, play recess games and brought a book to add to our new LFL. The 2013-2014 PTA hope that this is a treasured addition to the school and wider North Portland Community.
Sharon	Bennett	8054	461 NW Witham Dr		Corvallis	OR	Lovers of Reading
Christine	Gough	13635	395 NW Maxine Ave		Corvallis	OR		From Alex, our 7 year old: Last Christmas, my Grandpa made all the parts to put together a new Little Lending Library. All we had to do was prime the wood because he had already sanded it. After that, painted it and put it together. The weekend of Mother's Day 2014, my Dad attached it to a post and put it out in our yard. Next, we had a few books we were ready to give away. We put them inside. Our neighbor, Jenny, plus other people that saw it, added books too. A Little Lending Library is kind of like a mini tree house but with no ladder. It has a door with glass inside and books inside. You can take some books, and then return them after enjoying them. You can also add some to the library too. One of my favorite moments was looking outside on Memorial Day and seeing a ton of people running by. The stopped to look at all of our books and they even took one. They were all wearing red, white and blue costumes--tutus, capes, hats and fun outfits. There were about 12 people all crowded around the library. It was amazing! Please stop by and enjoy a book or add one to the library. We hope you enjoy it! Alex
Deborah	Kaufman	5083	960 Madison St		Eugene	OR		My children gave us the library as a housewarming gift when we moved to our new house and neighborhood. As a retired librarian it meant a great deal!

Robin	Mann	10037	360 NE 3rd Avenue		Hillsboro	OR		Sitting on a corner near the downtown area that gets a lot of foot traffic, the Little Free Library is well used. After 8 months in service, the books come and go on a regular basis. Donations have come in one at a time - and by the box. Getting and keeping stocked with children's books has taken a little effort, but a shout out for books via social networking has worked well. Love the library and the responsiveness of our neighbors. It's been a positive experience on all levels.
vicki	ezell	2120	9429 N Portsmouth Ave		Portland	OR		I already have #2120 but felt like the kids needed their own LFL. Had a grand opening last Saturday and it is off and running. Neighbors have brought so many books that I've had to bring inside my home until there is more room for them in the library.

Donna	Bush	12693	1526 S.E. Nehalem		Portland	OR		My Little Free Library was given to me as a retirement gift from my present and past school friends. I began my career as a Library Assistant and then I taught First and Second grade. I have spent the last 10 years as a Reading Specialist/ Instructional Coach to support students and teachers. I have a passion for literacy, and feel every child and adult deserve to have a book to call his or her own. This little free library gives me a place to make all kinds of books available for any child or adult who would like one. I am so excited to be able to share my love of books and reading!

Charles	Hammonds	16110	3575 Bardell AV		Eugene	OR		We live near a very popular bike trail that is used by many of our neighbors for riding, running and walking. Since we have a steady stream of passers by, it is a great location for a LFL. Our Little Free Library is a much smaller version of our house. Within an hour of installing our LFL we noticed a young girl browsing the books. She made her selection and waved as she walked away. The next day she returned for another book and left 5 books! We included a guest book for our visitors to make comments or suggestions. We are already getting requests.
Jim & Jane	Brown	16273	3410 Grant Street		Eugene	OR		We love the idea of the Little Free Library and the community spirit it fosters. The theme for the exterior came from Jim growing up on a small farm. He milked a cow morning and night from around age 10 till going to college. The inside suggests Jane's childhood favorite book, Charlotte's Web.

Every first grader in our town of Lebanon comes to campus and receives a book and a backpack and discovers how much fun reading can be. For some of these children, it is the very first book they have been able to call their own. The faculty and staff at the medical school thought it would be fun to have a Free Little Library where kids could find more books to read.
Esther	Phillips	13702	8310 SW 47th Ave		Portland	OR		This was a birthday gift for Esther - an avid reader and library steward. Brittney	Corrigan-McElroy	15216	5252 NE 57th Avenue		Portland	OR		Our library was made completely of reclaimed materials we found lying around our yard and garage. We were inspired to build one after the popularity of the poetry post we put up a few months prior. As far as we know, we are the first official Little Free Library in the Cully neighborhood of NE Portland. Our library is nestled in gargantuan Pacific Northwest foliage on our quiet street, and it's a big hit with the neighbors. There are quite a few families in the neighborhood, and our LFL is already filling up with wonderful children's books, as well as plenty of options for the adults (and of course plenty of poetry). Our daughter loves to check on the LFL every day when she gets home from school to see what has appeared while we were away. What a wonderful way to make new friends and spread our love of reading!

DOC/LINDA	DOMKOSKI	14735	315 HILLSIDE LANE		YORK	PA	IN MEMORY OF SAUDER W. CUMMINGS	HOW OUR STEWARDSHIP WAS BORN I was searching the internet for a couple of weeks after our son's death, trying to find some way to honor his memory. I stumbled on this website Little Free Library.org and thought what an awesome way to share his love for books. Trying to figure out how to go about building something that would accommodate this project, I happened to see a stand at the curbside of our grandson's house for garbage pickup. Michael, our grandson built the speaker table as a woodshop project at school, so I decided to convert it and our Little Free Library was born. Doc, my husband designed the roof to give special character to the stand. Aaron Wilson, owner of Funstik Skate Shop in York, PA, donated the skateboards, trucks, wheels and bearings for the roof of our Little Free Library. I painted it vibrant colors to resonate joy for all who visit and Doc installed it in our front yard. Sauder (Sawder) had a love for reading, poetry, story writing and music. From the time he learned to write as a little boy, he created short stories. "The Adventures of Winky & Pinky", "The Ship Wreck", and "All About Me". He had superheroes that saved his favorite bear "Snuggles" and the universe. Sauder read to open his mind to history, life, art, new ideas and discovering what other pioneers have found. Sauder was a dreamer and his books allowed him to dream. Reading gave his free spirit someplace to soar to when he had to stay planted at home. He lived a thousand lives before he died, because his books opened lifetimes of extraordinary adventures, and the freedom to discover the world. He was a deep intellectual person, who had to know what made most things work. He wasn't satisfied with accepting change on the premise that's the way it is. He had to understand why something was changed. Reading and music were his escapes and comfort through all his struggles. He wasn't afraid of diversity, he embraced it. Sauder's voyage can continue to soar as you discover your literacy wings. Fall in love with books like he did. You will encounter lifetimes of adventure and discover the world with each page you turn. We wanted to steward our Little Free Library to share the love of reading our son had throughout his life. We are excited to be a part of the growing literacy movement in the Little Free Library global community.

Lynn	Toerge	16364	Corner of Jefferson Drive and Country Lan	in Ann Allison Hoover Memorial Park	Pittsburgh	PA	Daryl Clemmens	A longtime friend and neighbor, Daryl, died at the young age of 63. She was active in our community as a volunteer as well as in her professional career. Daryl was a skilled public relations writer and mentor - she was also an avid reader. Creating a Little Free Library in her memory and placing it in our neighborhood park seemed the perfect way to honor her and continue her love of sharing books. Her friend Diana Baier asked her husband Tom to build the library with the assistance of Diana, Lynn Toerge and Mark Honess. The library was unveiled at a celebration of life gathering held at the park. Daryl's best friend Laurie Streiner planned the event with Daryl's sisters. Daryl was rather conservative, yet very fun, so the exterior of the library is traditional in design with a few fun accents in purple and black, the inside is painted her favorite color - purple. The library has been a wonderful addition to our park and is being enjoyed by young and old alike - which is a lovely tribute to Daryl!

There is another library in our town and I always wished that we had one on our street. When my husband asked me what I wanted for my birthday shortly after my retirement, my answer was immediate. We have many new readers in our neighbourhood and I am pleased to do my part in helping children as they begin to explore the wonderful world of reading. I put the library up and went away for a few days and when I returned home the few books that I had placed in it had grown so that the library was almost full of children's books with a few books for adults.

								Bethelfields' School Bus Stop Eagle Scout Project. The Bethelfields development, located off of Handsmill Highway in Lake Wylie, SC, is buzzing about their newest addition to their community thanks to Tony Daniels and his Eagle Scout project. Tony, with the help of his Bethelfields' neighbors, friends, and Troop 37, implemented a 25 ft. x 3 ft. stone paver pathway, an 11 ft. x 4 ft. stone paver patio, a 10 ft. stone and wood bench and a Free Little Library at the school bus stop (the only one for 40 homes) located at the corner of Ivy Creek Ford and Fallowbrook Forest for all to enjoy. The Free Little Library concept is "take a book, return a book". Tony hopes that everyone will take delight to this new addition to the community. Visit "littlefreelibrary.org" for more details. Tony wanted to do an Eagle Scout Project that would benefit both the school and his community by providing a safe place for the children and parents of his community to wait for the school bus. Tony is our recent South Carolina winner for the Sun Shade contest and knows how important it is to practice Sun Safety, that is why he chose his bench to sit back 27 ft. from the road nestled between large crepe myrtles for shade. A big special thanks from Tony to Home Depot, Lowes and Papa John's for their extremely generous donations and to all of his volunteers that helped to make his Eagle Scout Project a success. Quentin Carswell, General Manager of Papa John's Pizza in Lake Wylie, personally delivered an exceptionally charitable donation of pizza, brownies, and soda pop to Tony and his crew stating, "We are here for the community, and we enjoy giving back". Walmart, Food Lion, and an individual from CVS also helped with supplying water and ice for his 7 day Eagle Scout Project. Congratulations to Tony Daniels for a job well done!

Tracy	Dutrow	14934	2110 Mulberry Street		Yankton	SD		The Little Free Library Near Mulberry is located on our side yard, just east of the intersection of Mulberry Street and James Place. I have wanted a Little Free Library ever since I read about them several years ago. I was fortunate to get a free house to start the library from the high school industrial arts class, which built a number of libraries for the community. The library is stocked with adult, teen and children's books. There is a hook on the post to hang a leash and a jar of milk bone treats for your dog and free bookmarks for the library visitors. Visit and like us on Facebook at Yankton Little Free Library. There are others in the community but some may not be registered.

Oakland	Tennessee	10400	170 Doss Circle		Oakland	TN		The West Fayette Friends of the Library was formed in 2006 to promote the effort to establish a library in the fast growing western part of Fayette County TN. The Friends recently decided to focus on placing Little Free Libraries throughout the county. Our first Library is sponsored by the Town of Oakland and there are already plans for two more. The Oakland Chamber of Commerce helped us celebrate the opening of LFL # 10400 with a ribbon cutting on June 30, 2014.
Andie	Ray	14811	416 E. Oklahoma Avenue		Knoxville	TN		In April of 2014, Old North Knoxville Board Member, Jonathan Ball, built and donated our library, which is located in our neighborhood park and playground. Jane Ray, a retired children's librarian, donated dozens of books to get it started.
Ann	Ermer	13606	7691 Poplar Ave.	Methodist Le Bonheur Germantown	Germantown	TN		From the idea for a volunteer staff-run Book Cart for our hospital came the inspiration for our Little Free Library. After seeing an article in the Commercial Appeal in January, 2013, about a young man and his father's Little Free Library here in Memphis, I thought it would be a great idea for our hospital and offered an opportunity to have books available to everyone in our facility at any time. The idea behind the Little Free Library grew out of Hudson, Wisconsin. Todd Bol, with his friend, Rick Brooks, started the movement in 2009 as a memorial tribute to Todd's mother, a school teacher who loved to read. From the generous donations of our staff, the orthopedic staff on 4West, and The Germantown Community Library/Friends of the Library we soon had a wide variety of books to be able to stock our library. With the fortunate find of an antique cabinet from Melanie's Gift & Art in Germantown and the expertise of our facilities staff, Roy, David and Eric, to do the minor repairs, we now have a perfect library cabinet. Located right outside the Gift Shop in the hospital's main lobby, our Little Free Library is now open and accessible to everyone at any time. Methodist Germantown Hospital is now part of a growing, global community of Little Free Libraries here in the Memphis area and around the world. "Always a gift, never for sale." www.littlefreelibrary.org

Judy	Graham	7549	710 Kidder Lane		Knoxville	TN		We decided to add a Little Free Library at our church, because we wanted to promote literacy in the children of our neighborhood. We try to stock our library with books that appeal to children, teens and young moms.
Judith	Venable	7597	10077 Vandever Rd.	On the grounds of Calvary Presbyter	Crossville	TN		There is a history of this small rural community being a stop on the Book mobile system with the Caney Fork Regional Library. With this Little Free Library we connect to that history and continue to be a source of reading and interconnectedness in the Big Lick community of Cumberland county. It was built by a member of the small church on whose property it is housed. It is stocked by local contributions and is available to everyone who drives by...even delivery drivers and RV park vacationers.
natalie	knudsen	15488	200 Marlene St.		Hartsville	TN		The library is designed to resemble a Tennessee tobacco barn. These barns, although not so brightly colored, are still found on many farms throughout our county and remind us of the deep heritage tobacco production has in our area. The library is placed at the entrance to our county's only youth park/playground to be used by any and all children who come to play there.

Michelle	Blackwelder	16081	100 Arlington Place		Franklin	TN	In Honor of Juliette and Margot Blackwelder	This is the second Little Free Library in our family, the first began in Los Feliz, CA. Ginny, Kyle and Finn Pennekamp (#1925) are featured in a movie: http://vimeo.com/68884904 . They are also featured on The Little Free Library website: http://littlefreelibrary.org/inside-look-lfl-1925-power-books-reading-sharing-little-free-libraries/ . Juliette and Margot Blackwelder's maternal grandparents, John and Ginny Brewer (aka: JB and Gigi) decided that Franklin Tennessee was ready for the very first Little Free Library. The Monticello neighborhood is a 1970s community filled with ranch homes, large yards and beautiful tree-lined streets. The perfect location for neighbors of all ages to stop and pick up a new read. We love art, nature and birds. After Brent Blackwelder carefully built the library, Gigi artfully decorated our library. Gigi used brightly colored metal trees, leaves and stars. A tree branch with a bird sits atop the roof helping visitors choose the perfect read. Welcome to Franklin, Tennessee! Our home and the best little historic town in America... Thank you Pennekamp, Brewer and Blackwelder families! Thank you for sharing your love of books with us and passing it along to the next generation.
Renee	Morris	16435	288 S Perkins Rd	At the corner of Perkins and Cole Rd	Memphis	TN		My husband and I knew this corner would be the perfect place for our Little Free Library. So many people in our area walk past this corner and there is a high school right down the street. We renovated our house recently and most of the material used for the library came from our house.
Jim	Stover	15747	411 Crewdson Ave.		Chattanooga	TN		We are a reading family. I have taught high school English for 38 years, and my wife also works at the school where I teach. We have a house full of books, including the books our sons read as they were growing up. We are excited to share some of our favorites with the neighborhood.
Criss	Butler	14857	4103 Rolling Green		Seabrook	TX	K.J.	This is a neighborhood library with books for all ages and interests. Louie	Rodriguez	12162	5034 Doniphan Drive		EL PASO	TX	Paola Lujan	My name is Louie Rodriguez and we have built a Little Free Library made from recycled wood. First of all, the library was built by myself along with the help of the non-profit local organization, WoodWorker's of El Paso. It was designed and painted by a local artist Roman Martinez who did the artwork and it will be placed in front of a locally owned shop Tippi Teas. This library was primarily a gift for a dear friend, Paola Lujan who was the inspiration behind this project but is also a gift to our entire community that I hope will be enjoyed for years to come.

Devry	Avet	10752	7738 Starnberg Lake Drive		Corpus Christi	TX		"The world of books is the most remarkable creation of man. Nothing else that he builds ever lasts. Monuments fall; nations perish; civilizations grow old and die out; and, after an era of darkness, new races build others. But in the world of books are volumes that have seen this happen again and again, and yet live on, still young, still as fresh as the day they were written, still telling men's hearts of the hearts of men centuries dead." -- Clarence Shepard Day
Jamie	Jennings	10030	6114 Tulip Lane		Dallas	TX		Built by my husband, George, this Little Free Library has been in the works for almost a year. It opened for business on July 18, 2014. It is the first of what we hope will be several in our neighborhood. There are carved Newfoundland dog silhouettes on both sides of the library, and a small carved book at the top front which reads "A Tail of Two Cities". We are involved with Newfoundland rescue, and thought this would be a good way to celebrate our love of these gentle giants.

Arlington	TX	My parents, Gifford and Eleanor Hale	I am a retired Arlington teacher who was looking for a way to share my extensive book collection and honor my parents at the same time. We've stocked our first one with 50 high quality books for readers of all ages. Each book is labeled or stamped with the Little Free Library motto: Always a Gift, Never for Sale. Building this little house for books has been so exciting. I've been lucky to find a wonderful assistant, Sara Gunn, to help with finding books for young readers. We're hoping this will help us get to know our neighbors better and encourage others to put a Little Free Library in their area!

Charlotte	DeMolay	8991	Environmental Education Center	4116 W. Plano Pkwy	Plano	TX		Our library resides outdoors in our Nature Explore Classroom. Completing the library was a group effort by our volunteers at Live Green in Plano. One saw one and found the plans. Our 'handyman' volunteer built it. Another volunteer put on the base coat of paint and another volunteer painted the design to match our garden theme. A corporate group dug the hole and set the stand in concrete and the original builder fastened it to the stand. The corporate group also did a book drive to fill the library with the first round of books.
Nancy	Tyson	13293	El Corral Lozano Restaurant	300 W. 2nd Street	Taylor	TX		A group of friends get together every Tuesday for breakfast (hence our very creative name, The Tuesday Breakfast Ladies). We trade books with each other (among other things -- it's kind of like breakfast & our personal free-cycle gathering). We decided we should share our books with the community and asked if we could "liberate" an old magazine rack from in front of the restaurant. The owners were happy to find a place for the LFL right next to the register where everyone sees it. Our local paper, The Taylor Press, ran an article about it as we are the first LFL in Taylor.

Our Little Free Library has the theme 'Feed the Body, Feed the Mind, Feed the Soul' and is located at the Northeast Community Food Pantry in El Paso, Texas. We hope the patrons of the library will get some enjoyment and some mental nourishment from the books provided. The library has been started in honor of two local teachers that recently retired after 30 years of teaching. The pantry was decorated by their children, family, and friends. It was stocked with literature by the members of their church congregation, Grace Presbyterian Church.

Jeff	Salmon	16256	625 North First Street		Abilene	TX	Carolyn Cooper Salmon, former Abilene teacher	This little free library is located at Frontier Texas, a museum and visitor center located in downtown Abilene, TX. It was inspired by Tim & Amy Salmon of Milwaukee, Wisconsin who visited the museum in the spring of 2014 and by the encouragement of the museum director's wife, Deirdre. This LFL was built by the museum's director from a discarded side table built to resemble an antique ice box. The initial books were donated by the museum's volunteers. The official ribbon cutting ceremony was on August 5, 2014 by the Abilene Chamber of Commerce Redcoats.

I think all kids would love to read if they found the book that made them love reading so I opened a Little Free Library in my neighborhood. It is my second annual summer community project. It took a lot of work and a lot of people to help me, but I love it! We had a Ribbon Cutting ceremony today with free lemonade, cookies, and mini cupcakes to celebrate. I said a speech thanking everyone and telling them about the Library. It is the first one in our Community! I am so happy I got to open one to give all kids the chance to read!

Caramel	Quin	15372	37 Cleveland Park Avenue	Walthamstow	London	United Kingdom		Nick and Rebecca put out the word that they wanted to create a network of Little Free Libraries in Walthamstow, our corner of East London, as part of the E17 Art Trail. They were looking for hosts and artists. We were keen to host one as our street is a popular pedestrian thoroughfare and our whole family love books. So Nick built our library and found Emma to decorate it - the beautiful "Hare, bear, pear" design was drawn especially for our library! The library has been very popular so far, with passers-by constantly stopping to browse, borrow or donate. We can never get enough children's books to keep up with demand though, so donations much appreciated! Debbie	Bedbrook	14790	1 Dukes Walk	Folly Hill	Farnham	United Kingdom, Surrey		The Bedbrook family love reading. Stories and information books, comics and newspapers. So when we heard about this project we knew we had to be part of it. As one of my boys said, "We need to tell the world about books!" We have had so much fun getting it ready, we have all helped to build and paint it. On our open day we had a graffiti wall where people wrote about their favourite book and children made book related crafts.....and lots of tea and cake was consumed! We live just round the corner from an Infants School, so we hope lots of children will visit. We are so excited about this and we hope our community love it too!
Elenor	Carroll	13860	14 Bosbury Terrace	Stirchley	Birmingham	United Kingdom, West Midlands		As a confirmed bibliophile and a part-time librarian in a community library I saw this and knew it was something I had to do! Reading is not a luxury but in this day and age books can be expensive so this is an ideal way to encourage and promote reading in all age groups!

Mountain Meadows Farm LFL is open for business!!! Love sharing my love of reading; several local authors dropped by and donated their own books. Very cool!
Glenn	Tinsley	13905	118 Webster Ave		Portsmouth	VA		I am a volunteer with the Friends of the Portsmouth Public Library. A fellow volunteer, Carole Duckett, told me about them and I was determined to bring them to Portsmouth! My husband, Charles Bowles, agreed to support the idea in any way possible. Voila! Here we are tonight beginning a new chapter for our neighborhood, Parkview, our Friends of the Library and our town, Portsmouth! Yay hurrray!!!
Maggie	Belsan	12552	10514 Cedar Ave		Fairfax	VA		This was a gift from my four children and their spouses for my birthday. As a retired Information Assistant in a public library, it means even more than my life-long love of reading and talking about books. I'm hoping many people will take advantage of the Little Library as they travel to and from work on our street.
Diana	Markel	13967	33715 Snickersville Tpke		Bluemont	VA		My father, Roy Dudark, and my son, Reese Markel, 14, built this together as a spring break project in April 2014. My father lives in Columbia, Missouri and brought the supplies with him to complete this project with his grandson. Our family has a passion for reading and enjoy sharing books with others. We partially stocked the library from our homes and then shared the news in our local village email news asking the community to help stock the shelves. We have several young children in the village and many children get on and off the school bus at this stop. Many books have been donated by one of the bus drivers!
Elisabeth	Hunter	12232	7814 Killebrew Dr.		Annandale	VA
Ali	Friske	14008	1621 W. Laburnum Ave.		Richmond	VA		When we bought our house we realized there was a bus stop in front of it. There was nothing indicated except for the bus stop sign: no bench, no cover. We always wanted to provide a bench for the bus riders. When we learned of Little Free Library, we instantly wanted to put one up and it gave us the perfect tie-in for the bench. Since carving out our little spot for a bench, Little Free Library and flowers, we have met so many people visiting and enjoying the library. People have brought us bags of books to use, and we rarely have had to provide books ourselves. There is a constant, diverse flow of books coming in and going out. We check it every day. It has been a fantastic way to meet neighbors and people simply driving by. We love how it is bringing community together.

Rhonda	Graves	15777	Hampton Master Gardener's area at Bluebi	60 Pine Chapel Road	Hampton	VA	In Honor of all the visitors that come to Bluebird Gap Farm especially the kids	Hampton Master Gardeners (Virginia Cooperative Extension) HMG volunteers maintain a demonstration garden and arboretum at Bluebird Gap Farm, in Hampton, Virginia. Bluebird Gap Farm is a 60-acre farm/city park that is home to about 150 domestic and wild animals, including everything from the usual array of farm animals to a raccoon, birds of prey, whitetail deer, tortoises, and peacocks. Our LFL is full of gardening and nature books intended for our younger visitors but we also have gardening magazines that might be of interest to more seasoned gardeners. Our library has a green roof which have been trying to incorporate into the garden for some time. We are very proud to be part of the Little Free Library Movement because "The more that you read, the more things you will know. The more that you learn, the more places you'll go." — Dr. Seuss, I Can Read With My Eyes Shut!

Geneva	Moores	10191	431 N Kenmore St		Arlington	VA		We hope to encourage people to take advantage of reading in all four seasons; our library is painted with local seasonal images including fireworks over the Washington Monument, Cherry Blossoms, Falling leaves, and the White House Christmas Tree. Painted on the top are book spines with titles of some of our favorite books. My children and husband painted the library as a gift for me, but I hope many people will enjoy admiring it and, more importantly, take advantage of its contents.

Mitchell	Carey	16187	17801 Broad Meadow Drive		Amelia	VA		I love to read and want other kids in my rural community to enjoy reading, too. My family decided to share our love of reading with our community through a Little Free Library. I selected many of my favorite books for the initial opening and taped my typed comments in the front of each book stating why each book is a favorite. I decided to paint the library green and red (Christmas colors) as a gentle reminder to our patrons that reading is a gift. This has been a fun and exciting project!
Eva	Tashjian-Brown	16533	1527 River Rd. West		Crozier	VA	Lee Road Book Club	The Library is made from two recycled beehive boxes and sits on a hive stand. It was built and is maintained by a book club with lots of books to share.

Tom	Dykes	13021	2106 Claremont Avenue		Norfolk	VA		My wife bought the library for my birthday. We saw another library in the adjacent neighborhood and thought it makes for a positive way to embrace literacy.
Marina	Strauss	12377	19 Albermarle Street		Arlington	VA	Nina Peukert	Walking back from school one afternoon my kids saw a little free library and were amazed and we decided to ask grandfather living abroad to build one. We brought it back from Germany and assembled it and Nina who is 9 is taking care of it. We did an official opening with a speech she gave inviting everyone to enjoy our library!She has been taking good care of it as well as adding a note book for people to write their recommendations of good reads!

Tracey	Herold	15825	70 Boynton Ave		Saint Johnsbury	VT		I saw my first Little Free Library in Minneapolis, MN over a year ago. I love that each one is unique in both appearance and the books inside. I hope this little library will bring a smile to those who discover it. And I hope that those who stop and browse will find their next good read there inside it!
Linda	Weber	14680	Bouplon Four Corners	Murphy Hill Road	Shaftsbury	VT		We live about 9 miles from the nearest public library and I am a literacy teacher at the High School in Bennington. I wanted to encourage reading in our own neighborhood. The little building, which became our library, was an unused bus stop at a busy intersection. The property owner, Lou White, fixed the roof, installed paneling, and put up shelves for me. Thanks Lou!
James	Barbour	11044	1418 Boardman Hill Rd		West Rutland	VT	Gretchen Barbour	Our LFL is in honor of Gretchen Barbour, our rescued dachshund, that passed away early with much more to give. Inspired by Gretchen, we are giving back to the community through our library in West Rutland Vermont.
Nichole	Wolfgang	13320	1334 Scott Highway		Groton	VT		In an effort to promote community and literacy our Little Free Library is locate in the center of beautiful Groton, Vermont. Both adults and children can take a book and enjoy it on the picnic tables or benches any time of the day while savoring some of the best ice cream in Vermont!
David and Ksenija	Muller	13705	4339 Tacoma Ave S		Tacoma	WA		Ours is a low-tech, low-key library. We built it from materials we had, and stock it with books of all kinds, including books for and about kids.

Wendy	Katzman	14904	3916 NE Surber Drive		Seattle	WA		Our daughter's class at school created our little free library as a class project for our school auction. The class named the library "The Lifting Library" as part of our school-wide theme of "Lift" and each student in the class selected a book to include in the library. We were lucky enough to "win" the library!

Little Free Bird Library is the first in Okanogan, but hope it catches on and more follow. We thought our downtown espresso stand was the perfect spot. Books and Coffee!!!!
Patty	Gaul	14780	1917 W. 8th Ave.		Spokane	WA	John Gaul	I saw a LFL while on a walk with a friend and was in love with the idea. Through other friends, I found someone to build it. I wanted to dedicate it to my husband, John, who died about two years ago and loved to read. We read almost every night together.
Kevin	Syltebo	12474	9625 NE 8th St		Bellevue	WA	In memory of my father, Mark O. Syltebo	I have been on a life-long quest to read as many books as I can while also pursuing a career as a librarian. I have my BA in History and will be applying for a MLIS program in 2015. To satisfy my need to manage a library, I started this Little Free Library at my church in downtown Bellevue where commuters park and many people walk.
Beck	Hallmann	13875	1927 15th Ave East		Seattle	WA		This year I bought my first home. I have seen the Little Free Libraries around Seattle and thought it would be a fun way to contribute to my new community! My nieces & sister live on the Eastside and love to read. They are just as excited to see the library grow. It has been up for 48 hours and already we have had visitors borrow & leave books!
Bette	Lamont	6775	15805 28th Avenue NE, Shoreline, WA 98155		Shoreline	WA		We first saw a Little Free Library in Minneapolis and wanted to bring the idea to the Seattle area, only to find that folks are catching on here too, and there are many LFL's in our community. The Lamont Briarcrest Little Free Library adds to the wealth of shared reading experiences in the Seattle area. Being near a school we invite quality children's books as well as the many books offered to date.

Grace	Seidel	7159	8219 Latona Ave NE		Seattle	WA		A friend found out about the Little Free Library program last year. My partner Ken, who can build anything, quickly crafted two matching boxes and gave us each one. They now reside across the street from one another! I decided on what I would like to draw long before I painted it because drawing isn't my forte. Still, I'm pleased with the summertime scene on one side and the "dark and stormy" night on the other. I hope my neighbors enjoy the books and the box. I enjoy watching people stroll by to see what may be inside. Thank you for the program. Grace
Melanie & Anssel	Lopez	13711	3716 S. Sheridan Ave.		Tacoma	WA		I first learned about the Little Free Libraries from a link on Facebook, then a week later, I happened upon a "real" one on the way to my children's daycare. Being an avid reader since childhood, I knew I wanted one in front of our home! We have read to our children daily since birth and are trying to instill a love of reading in them. So far it seems to be working as our 5-year old daughter will choose reading books over pretty much anything. My husband got to work constructing our Little Free Library, with the help of our kids. Then my 2-year old son thought it looked like a barn, so "Peek-a-Book Barn" became the theme. The library will accept adult and children's books. I'm not sure who is more excited to see what comes and goes through our library: the kids, or me!
Nancy	Boschma	14666	8251 Kendall Road		Maple Falls	WA		This Little Free Library is located at the East Whatcom Regional Resource Center (EWRRC) in Maple Falls, Washington, and was made possible by the Linda Dorsett Memorial Fund. The EWRRC is a Whatcom County facility managed by the Opportunity Council, a local community action agency. A variety of community resources are available at the EWRRC. Stop by to check it out; we would love to see you!

Ric & Carlila	Hughes	15854	17912 S Lois Drive		Cheney	WA		We have been wanting to build a library for over a year, we both love books and have decided our house is running over and we need to share but just didn't get to it until one day I decided to go to Habitat and buy a cupboard. Great starter base for the project. Ric spent a while deciding how he was going to make it happen and kind of worked on it on the sly then surprised me with the beautiful finished Library for our anniversary!! So sweet :) We still have a bit of work to do around the library to make it all pretty but it is certainly ready for visitors. Thank you for starting this idea so we can follow and share the wealth of reading! Ric and Carlila Hughes
Tina	Homan	14891	2602 NE 133rd St		Seattle	WA		Our family made this library to share our love of books with our community. My husband made it and added solar lights so we can see the books when it gets dark. We love our little library!
Michelle	McLaughlin	11598	5019 SW 329th Way		Federal Way	WA		A few years ago, I saw an article in the local paper about the Little Free Library story. I cut out the article and started looking into building one. Unfortunately, my building skills are limited and so nothing happened, but the article remained on my nightstand, a reminder of what I wished for. In the fall of 2013, my brother-in-law built a library in memory of his son. While collecting books for his library, he learned about my dream of having one. In December, after the holidays, the phone rang and it was Billy, offering to build me my own Little Free Library. A few weeks later, on a wintry February day, it was installed. The library has been so much fun- truly a dream come true for me. The neighborhood community has embraced it and I am so grateful that I am able to be the steward and that I can share my love of reading with so many people. It delights me everyday!
Sandy	Tseng	15784	6211 Ravenna Ave NE		Seattle	WA		We had our Little Free Library built by a contractor who was doing work for us in the house shortly after we moved into our Seattle home from Denver. Two careers in academics have resulted in a large accumulation of wonderful books. Several of these books were exam or desk copies from literature and creative writing courses taught at the University of Colorado Boulder and others were noteworthy classics from our undergraduate years. Special thanks to writer friends and colleagues who have or will be donating a copy of their book to this library. National literary journals will occasionally make their way into this library as well, offering an array of voices in poetry and short fiction from today's contemporary authors in the writing community. We're looking forward to others in the neighborhood contributing to the library, particularly children's books for the several kids who live on the block. This library was built using recycled wood donated by Chris Cressman, who owned a sawmill on Vashon Island. We are thrilled to contribute our library to the map!
Mary	Morgan	14,150	1008 E. Second Street		Ellensburg	WA		My friend, Charli, gave me a Little Free Library stewardship as a holiday gift. When she asked how I wanted my LFL to look, I asked if she could incorporate a bird feeder into the library design. As you can see, she did! The library faces the street and the bird feeder faces the house. Our first batch of books included several Audobon and other bird books! Since Charli installed the library, I have been meeting new neighbors and sharing my love of books.

Bea	vonTobel	15211	92 Lindsay Way	A common lot within a Homeowner's	Eastsound	WA		The Orcas Highlands LFL is colocated with the mailboxes for association residents, who come and go daily to pick up mail. It serves as a meeting point, and therefore a locus for gatherings. Potlucks are held in the grassy area behind the mailboxes, and so this area serves as a posting area for events and projects, and seemed to be the logical place to put a LFL.

Brenda	Berry	15744	11047 104th Ave NE		Kirkland	WA		We enjoy our neighbors so much, and look forward to any opportunity to get together, to visit, and to get to know new neighbors. We also really enjoy books of all sorts. Our home library has grown beyond the shelves available so this is our opportunity to extend it outside and to many more friends.
M	Keberle	15474	7616 N Quamish Dr.		Spokane	Wa		Our family loves to read, and we saw a rotary magazine highlighting little free libraries all over the world. We thought it would be a great addition to our neighborhood community, so we set off to build our own. It has been positive - neighbors stop and talk, take books, leave books. It has been a lot of fun!
								Our family built this little library to celebrate and share our love of reading and our love for Labrador Retrievers. We think a great book and a loving, faithful dog are excellent companions! We celebrate what they bring to our lives. We named our library "Labrador Lane- Little Free Library." We are the stewards but our two Labs are our honorary librarians. We have several individuals in our family tree that had a love of learning. My husband's grandparents were both teachers and he followed their example and became a teacher too. My great grandparents donated land and built a church which also served as the one room school house for their community. They wanted their children and their neighbor's children to have the opportunity to be taught how to read, and they believed it was the right thing for them to do because it was an investment in the future. I had another great grandfather who was a itinerate preacher and he traveled many miles to preach and teach the Bible. All of these wonderful people are part of our heritage and they had a part in sowing the seed in our hearts to build this library. My parents were avid readers and loved poetry, music, and theatre and I grew up hearing my father reciting famous quotes and poems every day. That made a big impression on me. Both of my parents were always reading several books at a time and discussing them at great length. They read to us children and instilled in me a love of learning and a hunger to read books. I am so thankful for that. As we start our library we believe that we are planting seeds to pass a love of reading on to the next generation. Just like those who came before us, we are planting intentionally for our children to become mighty oaks. We are also planting for our neighbors' children because we believe that is the right thing for us to do and it gives us great joy. There is a Greek proverb I love and it inspires me! It says- "A civilization flourishes when people plant trees under which they will never sit." This rings true in our hearts and we smile thinking about all the possibilities that this little library can hold. Ours is a small library but we hope and pray that it makes a BIG, wonderful impression on our children, our neighborhood and our community, and that it sparks great things in the lives of many people. What an adventure we are having! Reading books to our children, playing with our Labs and sharing books that we believe are seeds for a bunch of mighty oaks- we LOVE it! We're dreamers and we're dreaming BIG!

Maxx	Lee	15292	2008 First Ave		Seattle	WA		Essentia's Seattle store is on the edge of the Belltown neighborhood in Seattle. At first glance it's part shopping district and part salons and night clubs. Take one look up and you'll see the other side of Belltown, the residences - condos and apartments - that fill this unique neighborhood. We're always looking for ways to connect with our city and give back. The Seattle store's employees also happen to read a lot of books. Adding a Little Free Library seemed a natural fit for these two. We hope to give the people of Belltown a reason to stop, connect and pick up a book to read.

Kyle	Parker-Robinson	15493	3113 E Pike St		Seattle	WA		My wife is a librarian for the county and sits on various book award committees, as such she gets mailed books non-stop around the year by publishers who want their books to be nominated. Several times she ends up with multiple copies of the same book. If it's a book she likes, we want to do something with the extra other than just donating it to the local library. I got her the little free library as a birthday present so she could share these books with our neighbors. I'm also using it as a chance to share old comics from my childhood with the kids in the area.

Although I live far from the ocean, thanks to my sea-loving husband Jack (deceased), a model ship builder, our house sports a whale weathervane, and the fence holds numerous colorful crab pot floats, rope and buoys collected over the years on Pacific beach vacations. Jack was an avid reader and left many boxes filled with books, which now can be enjoyed by many. The two-story lighthouse has separate rooms for adult and children's books. Jack's photo and other pictures hang in the adult reading room, complete with chandelier, and the kids room contains a treasure chest for children to explore with little treasures to keep.

Now the children and adults in the neighborhood have all been visiting and using our library we are very pleased to be the proud owners of a Little Free Library.
Gramma Nancy	Chevigny-Dahlke	15484	11305 E. 33rd Ave.		Spokane	WA	Rosemary Chevigny	I want to encourage reading and the love of books. I have started a story time for grand kids and neighborhood children. This is a way for me to meet my neighbors.

Charles	Benedict	15502	Lake Wilderness Arboretum		Maple Valley	WA		This Library is a maple log standing on end with a sword fern planted in the top. It is located in the Lake Wilderness Arboretum so the books are all about gardening, birds, western plants and children's books based on plants or gardens. It is located next to an arbor and bench dedicated to Catherine & Elmer Benedict. She was the librarian in Maple Valley from approximately 1955 to 1975.

Bonnie	Magnuson	16986	10317 Interlaaken Dr. S.W.		Lakewood	WA		My husband and I had a wonderful time building this Little Free Library together. His great collection of tools and my creative eye joined our skills. We both have a love for books and wish to share with others. Several of his childhood books are still in our collection which our three adult children will someday share amongst our grandchildren. We celebrate our 40th wedding anniversary this month making this project extremely special.
Adam	Houston	12273	8008 35th Ave NE		Seattle	WA
Molly	Peterson	16520	2649 West Beach Road		Oak Harbor	WA		Our little free library is located on a beach road on Whidbey Island where the wind frequently blows off the water. We attached a hummingbird whirrigig for a bit of whimsy and to draw attention. We hope that our library will be visited frequently by our neighbors as well as visitors to our West Beach community.
Carolyn	Johnston	16106	4311 Olympic Blvd		Everett	WA		While driving school bus I noticed a library, as time went on I began to see others. So one day I pulled over and read the information on the front. When I got home I looked up the website. We have five grandchildren and an active walking neighborhood so I asked my husband if he would make me one. To my surprise, when I posted it on facebook I discovered that I had many friends who knew about these and loved them. We have had it up for a week and the activity it receives is amazing! Thanks you Free Little Library for the inspiration and for the wonderful idea.

Kevin	Santulis	14787	N8790 Benson Road		Brooklyn	WI		This LFL is at the Town of Brooklyn recycling center and was built and chartered by the three members of our Town Recycling Committee, Bob Strous, Russ Cichy and Kevin Santulis. With the recycling theme you see the children's library is our composite Microwave/Gas grill and the main library is our washer/treadmill. Naturally the mechanisms have been removed and replaced with shelves and other recycled materials were used in the construction. This is the one place folks in our rural community gather every Saturday so it was a great location for the LFL.
Room		206	11738 3871 E. Bluestem Dr.		Oak Creek	WI		Our class takes care of the Butterfly Garden at our school. Children often sit on the benches to read. We thought this would be a perfect place for a Little Free Library. Our teacher wrote a letter to a local Corporation asking for a grant. When the grant arrived we look on the website for the perfect library and we found it. Our kit arrived in about 3 weeks and we spent the next semester staining, assembling, and preparing for our Little Free Library. Our Library is ready for some summer reading!
Jessa	Kinnamon	14712	S7993 Maple Park Rd		Prairie du Sac	WI		Our LFL is a mobile library! We visit a remote neighborhood in our school district that does not have access to a library. Our hope is to build family libraries and promote reading during the summer months.

New London	High School	12195	801 Werner Allen Blvd.		New London	WI		This cheese head library was built, stocked and placed by New London High School students. The project was a collaborative effort between an English teacher and a tech. ed. teacher. Students in Applied English researched how to place a Little Free Library in their community, got permission to build on public property, obtained sponsorship, and held book drives. In Woods class, students designed, built, and installed the Little Free Library. Many students contributed to the success of the project.

Sue	Smullen	10981	De Pere Community Center	600 Grant Street	De Pere	WI		The GFWC Woman's Club of De Pere, a volunteer organization, sponsored a Little Free Library at our community center. It is the first Little Free Library in De Pere. The Woman's Club is over 100 years old and prides itself in community involvement. The group supports reading for children, literacy for adults and libraries around the world. One of our members did the rosemailing on our library door.
New London	High School	12197	E918 State Rd. 96		Readfield	WI		New London High School students installed this library. As part of a project coordinated between an English class and a woodworking class, students obtained permission to put the library on public property, designed and built it, and organized a book drive.

They built the library and the stepping stones leading up to it, to earn their Bronze Award, which is the top honor a Girl Scout Junior can earn.
Cynthia	Schlegel	10559	407 W Jefferson St		Stoughton	WI		Our Little Free Library is just for kids; just picture books, board books, chapter books, and a few YA books.
Stella	Rogers	13497	307 S 3rd Avenue	Martin Park	Sturgeon Bay	WI		This library includes a planter and bench and is located in Martin Park in Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin. The theme of the piece is "A Child's Garden of Verses" and it has six art panels with poems from the book illustrated with "glass bead painting". It is street art to be sold at auction on September 20 2014 to benefit the Sturgeon Bay visitors center.
Phyllis	Ziegler	14690	Across from Lincoln Park in the 1900 block of 15th Ave.		Monroe	WI		ADK is a group of female educators who work to contribute to the community and further education for all. Our project this year was to build a LFL. The Alpha Delta Kappa-Omicron Chapter in Monroe, WI received a grant for funding to build the first Little Free Library in Monroe. Monroe has a Swiss heritage, so a Swiss chalet design was chosen.
Carmen	Young	13849	1213 Woodland Ct		Appleton	WI		My 14 year old daughter has wanted a LFL since the first time she saw one! She is an avid reader, always with a book in hand, usually reading three or more at a time. After moving to a neighborhood FULL of kids, from 16 months to 16 years, we decided to install a children's-young adult themed library. The response from our neighbors was overwhelming love and acceptance! Several mentioned they'd thought about installing one, and they were so pleased to now have one :)
Robert	Fisher	14702	N10464 Chief Kuno Trail		Fox Lake	WI		Bob created the benches so that the many walkers on our road would have a place to rest a minute and select a book. The small bear now holds a book "HuckleBEARy Finn" and wrote a note that "Reading is a BEARy good pastime. Read to your children and grandchildren." It is signed "Ima Bear".

Laura	Goodness	13958	8481 Cty Rd. S		Pulaski	WI		We brought the installation of the Little Free Library to the taxpayers present at the Town of Chase annual meeting in May. We were thrilled by how enthusiastic the response was. People knew about the library and wanted one by our town hall.
Laura	Goodness	13958	8481 Cty Rd S		Pulaski	WI		Annette Pelegrin and I presented the idea of establishing a Little Free Library on the site of the Town Hall for the Town of Chase at the annual meeting. We were surprised how enthusiastic the reception was for the idea. Many people loved the idea of sharing books and bringing a positive enterprise to the community. My husband, Bill Schumacher build it from a plan he adapted from this site. The Town of Chase is excited about its Library.

Ann	Peterson	11551	Sand Lake Elementary School	3600 Sand Lake Rd.	Holmen	WI		I am a school librarian. Sand Lake Elementary School's Little Free Library was a winter project, designed and built by my dad. Everyone waited patiently for the snow to melt and the ground to thaw. Now students have access to books on evenings, weekends, and all summer long!
Ann	Peterson	11550	Jellystone Park -- Caledonia, WI	8425 Hwy 38	Caledonia	WI		My aunt and uncle, along with their daughters and spouses, own and operate Jellystone Park -- Caledonia, WI. The Little Free Library was designed and built by my dad. It is a miniature of Yogi's cave, which is where children tuck in Yogi Bear and read him a bedtime story each night during the camping season. My family has a seasonal site at Jellystone. As a school librarian, I enjoy maintaining the LFL collection, a mixture of books and magazines for children and adults.
Christine	Jones	14379	2607 Post Rd		Stevens Point	WI		This library was sponsored by the company I work for called Cleanpower. We had one of our cleaners build it and one of our grounds crew members put it on position. Our managers donated books to get us started. This is our way of giving back to the community we live and work in.
Jodi	Joyce	14138	Group Health Cooperative Hatchery Hill Cli	3051 Cahill Main on the West side of	Fitchburg	WI		Our LFL started six years ago when Jodi attended a Health Literacy Conference for Group Health Cooperative-SCW and decided it would be a fun way for GHC to contribute to the local community and encourage literacy. A few years later after sharing her vision with Mark, Jeanan and Rick Brooks, GHC's first LFL was installed. It was constructed as a barn, with solar lighting, in recognition of the farmland that once surrounded the GHC clinic and going green initiatives.

Mike	VanDan	14943	3931 E Milwaukee St		Janesville	WI		We started our Little Library because we live on a street that has a lot of people walking. We already had a sitting area for people to stop and sit. Now people can stop and sit and read a book. In its first week, we have already had several books borrowed and some new ones left. We are leaving CD's for people to take and enjoy.

A special thank you to Ned Waltz and Dick Zimmer for the supplies and manual labor that went into the creation of our little library building.
Karen	Holzmann	11911	626 Pinehurst Avenue		Green Bay	WI		We are excited to provide another way to promote literacy in our community. Our books reflect our school community (Kindergarten through Fifth Grade) with some adult choices too.
Ruth	Dickinson	15024	7408 Pershing Blvd		Kenosha	WI		We have seen other little free libraries in Wisconsin and were intrigued. We get a lot of foot traffic past our house and have an overabundance of books. Building and putting up a Little Free Library in our yard just seemed like a perfect fit.
Lisa	Thill	134564	2115 Johnson St		La Crosse	WI		I have seen the Little library and thought that they were so cute. I wanted one for 3 years and put it on my bucket list and now it is a reality. The neighbors are loving it and we have had great response. It is a joy to watch someone discover it and see how happy it makes them.
Jennifer	Parson	15395	408 S 1st St		Black River falls	WI	Steve and Sharon Parson	I have loved to read since I was a little girl. My dad made the library and I dedicate it to my parents who are the reason I love to read!

Steve	Matthias	12431	pond-side path behind	N8015 Lake Breeze Drive	Sherwood	WI		Sherwood is a small village in Wisconsin along the northern shore of Lake Winnebago near High Cliff State Park. It has miles of recreational paths running throughout the village. One busy path runs along the nature ponds in our backyard. Friendly people walk, run, jog, skate or bike by everyday. Our Little Free Library is in the ideal location located in a large flower garden alongside the path. We share the garden, we share the books, we hope to help grow the community with our library.

scott	weiss	15856	s.84 w.17698 Woods Rd.		Muskego	WI		We live in an old Farm House, and two years ago the city put in a bike path in front of our property. We built a bench for people to sit and take a break from their walks. It seemed natural that there should be some reading material. My wife was a library at our local public library and had asked me to build a little free library. It just so happened that we went to a fundraising Gala for the Bel Canto Chorus in Milwaukee. One of the live auction items was a custom built Little Free Library. Needless to say I kept bidding until we "won" the library. The builder came to our house to take pictures and paint samples. He did a great job modeling the library after the details on our house. It's only been up for 3 days and we have had lots of visitors! We love it.

Chris	Hedstrom	14995	N7113 E Pine Lake Lane		Waupaca	WI		This little lake community is an excellent place to curl up with a good book! With limited or no Internet connection available (we rely on cell phone hot spots) we can enjoy reading books the old fashioned way! My dad built this library for my birthday and my husband and uncle helped erect it. I collected books from my own stash and others pitched in with theirs. The library officially opened on July 2, 2014 just in time for our annual Pine Lake Association meeting where I plan to hand out the info to my neighbors.
Bruce/Andrea	Comeau	14450	513 South 5th Avenue		West Bend	WI		We enjoy seeing individuals take a stop from their walk or bike ride to look at the books. We have two separate libraries. There were two area businesses that had abandon real estate broker information boxes in storage. We painted one for children's book and the other for grown up books. They sit across the sidewalk from each other with easy access.
Stacy	Foster	1665	Mead Park	W. Whitney St	Stevens Point	WI		Central Wisconsin Holistic Families little free library was built in 2011 as a group project and a way to give back to our community. Kids and adults came together to design, build and paint the LFL. With permission and support from the City of Stevens Point Parks Department kids from throughout the area now have access to the LFL every time they stop by KASH playground. Central Wisconsin Holistic Families aims to maintain a network of parents and individuals providing support for natural parenting and sustainable living through dialog, events, and community outreach.

Susan	Storey	16168	405 Llanos Street		Verona	WI		Since moving to Madison, WI we have been fascinated by the Little Library story. Reading is one of my greatest passions, and has been since I was very young. Upon sharing it with my parents in Colorado Springs, CO, we learned that's another great city with the little libraries. My parents researched libraries and built ours. The bright colors remind me of the lifeguard stands at the beaches in Florida, where I lived for many years before come to Wisconsin. The bright colors are fun and whimsical. My three year old son loves to read and together we look forward to not only adding books to the library but also enjoying the ones people leave for us.

He was passionate about reading and about books. This Little Free Library has been created to inspire all of our neighbors in HyView Mobile Home court to fall in love--and stay in love--with reading. We are working to build a healthier neighborhood...one book at a time.
Daniel	Beyerl	10069		1379 Battle Hollow Road	De Soto	WI		Found at a garage sale for only a few dollars, our Little Library was found by Alex, daughter to Dorothea. Alex phoned her mother knowing we'd been discussion something for our property owners' association and the deal was done. Erected by Dan and is now maintained by both Dorothea and Dan. Our neighbors have been using it almost daily keeping the influx of books fairly steady. We're proud to sponsor a Little Library in our association.

Deb	Fritz	10594	401 S. Third Street		Evansville	WI	Evansville Fund Grant (Evansville Reads); Richard and Elaine Strassburg Fund	Levi Leonard Elementary School purchased the materials for this Little Free Library that Keith Hartje built to help him earn his Eagle Scout badge. The Evansville Fund purchased the charter number sign for the Little Free Library and some of the children's books to put in it as soon as it was ready. This Little Free Library gets a lot of use both during the school year and in the summer. Deb Fritz and her husband go to community garage sales in the summer and buy amazing children's books to restock the LFL when needed. Parents and community members also donate books to this much-used Little Free Library so that more children have access to lots and lots of books.
Deb	Fritz	10593	339 Lincoln Street		Evansville	WI	Evansville Fund Grant (Evansville Reads); Richard and Elaine Strassburg Fund	Heather Hanson was a reading resource teacher at Levi Leonard Elementary School and volunteered to house a Little Free Library on her property to help Keith Hartje earn his Eagle Scout badge and to help get more books into the hands of the children in the elementary school. Her co-worker, Deb Fritz, the K-2 reading specialist at Levi Leonard Elementary makes sure that this Little Free Library stays full of good-fit books for children in the community.
Deb	Fritz	10213	30 N. Fourth Street		Evansville	WI	Evansville Fund Grant (Evansville Reads); Richard and Elaine Strassburg	This Little Free Library is so cool, because it is an awesome Tardis with a light on top that lights up at night! It holds a lot of books, too. Victoria Flynn and her family requested this awesome LFL, and Scott Brummond, the builder, spent countless hours designing and creating this community favorite. Victoria and her family add a lot of their own books to this Little Free Library and do a great job of keeping it organized. This is not an easy task, since this LFL gets lots and lots of use!
Keith	Hartje	10591	470 Garfield Avenue		Evansville	WI	Keith Hartje's Eagle Scout badge	Keith Hartje built this Little Free Library and put it up in front of the Evansville Manor. He keeps this LFL filled with books for children and for adults. This is one of the Little Free Libraries he built to earn his Eagle Scout badge. Notice the picture of him in his Eagle Scout uniform! Congratulations, Keith, for your ongoing contribution to literacy in the city of Evansville!
Keith	Hartje	10592	15 E. Antes Drive		Evansville	WI	Keith Hartje's Eagle Scout badge	This is one of the Little Free Libraries that Keith Hartje built to earn his Eagle Scout badge. It is in front of the historic Baker Building in Evansville and directly across from Lake Leota Park. This is the first Little Free Library that you will see as you drive into Evansville from the north on Madison Street. Just look for the old windmill!
Keith	Hartje	10595	43 N. Water Street		Evansville	WI	Keith Hartje's Eagle Scout badge	This Little Free Library was built by Keith Hartje to earn his Eagle Scout badge. This LFL is in Countryside Park, a park that is used by many children and adults in the neighborhood and throughout the community of Evansville. Thank you, Keith, for your ongoing support of literacy!
Deb	Fritz	10218	116 Garfield Avenue		Evansville	WI	Evansville Fund Grant (Evansville Reads); Richard and Elaine Strassburg Fund	Scott Brummond built nine Little Free Libraries in the city of Evansville. This LFL is special, because it is in front of his own house, and...it looks just like his house! This Little Free Library is visited frequently, because Scott's wife, Nancy, is a second grade teacher at Levi Leonard Elementary School in Evansville. A big thank you goes out to Scott for his ongoing contribution to literacy in the community.
Deb	Fritz	10216	414 S. Sixth Street		Evansville	WI	Evansville Fund Grant (Evansville Reads); Richard and Elaine Strassburg Fund	This Little Free Library was built by Scott Brummond, the builder of nine of the Little Free Libraries in the city of Evansville. It is in front of Peggy Hels' house, and it looks like a miniature version of the house she lives in...thanks to the creative efforts of Scott Brummond. Peggy's Little Free Library gets a lot of use each day, and she enjoys watching how excited the children are when they find a book to borrow from the LFL. Peggy does an awesome job of keeping the books organized and letting Deb Fritz, the K-2 reading specialist at the elementary school, when she is running out of children's books. The children's books seem to be the hot books at her Little Free Library!

Although they both love trains, they have a barn quilt on their garage, so now, they also have an awesome Little Free Library barn in their side yard right on Main Street. Numerous children visit their LFL each day, because they not only love all the wonderful books they find in it, but also, they are hoping to see Steve and Carol out in their yard! They love them, too!
Deb	Fritz	10220	6909 N. County Road M		Evansville	WI	Evansville Fund Grant (Evansville Reads); Richard and Elaine Strassburg Fund	This Little Free Library holds a lot of books and is located in a mobile home community with twenty-three children ages 13 and under...a captive audience, right? This Little Free Library gets the most use of all of the Little Free Libraries in the city! The children who live in this neighborhood are always so excited when their LFL is restocked with good-fit books! Deb Fritz, the K-2 reading specialist, has been going to a lot of garage sales and buying requested books to put in this LFL...Barbie books, Captain Underpants books, American Girl books, lots of nonfiction books, etc. The books in this Little Free Library change a lot, so keep checking it. You never know what new books you will find!
Boys & Girls	Club of Wis Rapids	12748	501 17th Street South		Wisconsin Rapids	WI		The Boys & Girls Club wanted to make more books available to children in the community at our Boys & Girls Club Pitsch Center location. Howe Elementary School received a grant to provide our location with a Little Free Library and the Boys & Girls Club stocked it with children books. Anyone from the community is welcome to take a book or give a book and enjoy more reading.
Deb	Fritz	10227	144 W. Church Street		Evansville	WI	Evansville Fund Grant (Evansville Reads); Richard and Elaine Strassburg Fund	This Little Free Library is close to the middle school in Evansville. You will find it at this address, but it is actually just around the corner on Second Street, since this is a corner lot. It is beautifully landscaped around this Little Free Library, so be sure to check it out. Check out some books while you're there, too!
Deb	Fritz	10212	213 S. Second Street		Evansville	WI	Evansville Fund Grant (Evansville Reads); Richard and Elaine Strassburg Fund	This Little Free Library is on the far right corner of this property and across from the middle school playground. It is right on the way to and from school for many middle school students, so it is usually filled with many good-fit books geared toward those students' reading levels and interests.
Deb	Fritz	10229	13941 W. Elaine Drive		Evansville	WI	Evansville Fund Grant (Evansville Reads); Richard and Elaine Strassburg Fund	This Little Free Library is in the tree-filled lot next to Vicki Lecy-Luebke's home. Vicki used to be the intermediate principal in Evansville, and she has a real love of reading! She also used to be the elementary reading specialist in the district, so she has extensive experience in choosing good-fit books for children. Vicki has contributed many of her own books to this Little Free Library, too.

We would always come out with a basket full of books.

Evelyn	Li	7479	319 N Drew St		Appleton	WI		It was a Christmas gift from my boys and husband. They spent a couple weeks working at night building it without me knowing. I thought that it was a school project that my husband was helping our son to build. I was actually quite disappointed that my husband was SO involved in this project, instead of letting our son working on his own. I was totally surprised when it was given to me on the Christmas day! What a joy. It wasn't installed until Mother's Day weekend six months later because we had to wait for the ground to thaw. The most beautiful part is that all the materials used were from our scrap wood and things found in the garage and basement. Nothing was purchased!

								Last winter, Kris Strand, President of Bekkum Library's Friends group, received an email from the local newspaper about the Tandem Poetry Tour coming to Wisconsin. (Kris has a LFL in her front yard, so the editor thought of her) Maya Stein and Amy Tingle of Food for the Soul Train were cooperating with Little Free Library Inc. to bring poetry and books to small rural communities along their bike route in the summer of 2014. Kris forwarded the email to me at the library, and I immediately checked out Amy and Maya's website and blog. I was so intrigued with the idea of travelling poets that I joined their kickstarter campaign. I contacted them through email and told them, "Westby wants you here!!" Amy and Maya graciously scheduled Westby on their route, and sent us a LFL to be assembled early in June. Volunteer David Anderson assembled and painted the LFL--his wife Susan says he used LOTS of paint--and then he delivered it to a local artisan, Karen Hanke, who rosemaled the sides. I went to the City Council and asked if we could install the LFL in front of City Hall, and councilman Dan Helgeson advocated strongly for the placement! City manager Gregg Hanson installed the post soon after that meeting. Librarian Jess Reed, with help from the story hour kids, screwed the LFL to the post, & the preschoolers made bookmarks to put inside. The next day, we welcomed the Tandem Poetry Tour to town at our weekly Burgers-in-the-Park. Maya and Amy typed poetry for kids and adults, then we biked over to City Hall. The City Council and the Mayor were there to dedicate our new LFL, and Kris Strand presented the poets with a gift box of locally made treats. People are already using the LFL! The City Clerk loves to look out her office window and see people checking it out. Thank you so much for this opportunity to serve our community in another way! Nancy	Putman	13930	1010 Gammon Lane	#3	Madison	WI		For over 30 years, a group of my girlfriends from high school have been getting together once a year for a long weekend of laughter, food, talking and tears. We grew up together in a small town in Madison, MN. This past April I hosted our group of nine women in my community of Madison, WI. I thought it would be a wonderful way to commemorate our friendship to make two little free libraries together. Over the weekend we painted them and added little touches here and there. I kept one of the libraries and my fiancé and I erected it to the maple tree in front of our condo in May, and filled it with books donated by my friends from MN. The other library made its way back to Victoria, MN - two little libraries made with love and friendship from two Madison's, giving more friendship and the gift of reading to others.
Bev	Peaslee	14060	9285 - 2nd Street		Sherry	WI	In Honor of the Sweet Family	I heard about the Little Free Library organization a few years ago and have been looking for someone to build me one. This year I noticed the local library was having a fundraiser including a silent auction. The fundraiser was called "Viva Las Vegas" and starred an Elvis impersonator. Many of the items in the silent auction were Elvis-related items. A local gentlemen made a replica of Graceland (minus the bricks) to be used as a Little Free Library and donated it for the silent auction! I attended the fundraiser and won the library! Being a huge Elvis fan, I figured this was meant to be. To really make the installation of the library an earth-shattering event, I thought Elvis should be there!!

Nancy J.	Jones	9063	1125 N. Briarcliff Dr.		Appleton	WI	We dedicate our library to the memory of our parents, Houston & June Jones and Larry & Pearl Hacker.	Let me tell you 'bout Threatened birds, butterflies, and bees. Native flowers and trees. And the sky up above, And the Earth we love. Our library's beehive design & nature theme emphasize the importance of small choices we make, as well as the power of the written word. We have always enjoyed the natural world. We have been concerned about problems of invasive species in our woodlands and wetlands, endangered species, and loss of habitat. We were alarmed to learn about the severe decline in populations like the Monarch Butterfly, the loss of pollinators we depend on for our food supply, and a 50% decline in bird populations in the last 40 years. Then last spring Nancy heard author Doug Tallamy speak as part of the Fox Cities Book Festival and read his book "Bringing Nature Home: How You Can Sustain Wildlife with Native Plants." His message is simple. We need to restore lost habitat by planting native species in our yards. His book lays out a compelling case about the impact of choosing native plants over non-native plants. His book and presentation inspired us to action. Better yet, it gave us hope that there is something we can do to help restore a healthier environment. Tallamy's vision is to create what he has dubbed "Homegrown National Park," as, yard by yard, we recreate some contiguous habitat that will allow the other creatures we depend upon and enjoy to survive and even thrive. Beehives are associated with honeybees, and honeybees are not native to North America. However, the beehive design is meant to emphasize our dependence on other species for our own survival. Nearly 80% of all flowering plants require animal pollinators. The Xerces Society promotes land use that supports both native pollinators and the honeybees used in agriculture. We dedicate our library to the memory of our parents, Houston & June Jones and Larry & Pearl Hacker. June, & Pearl loved to read for enjoyment. Houston and Lawrence loved to read to learn. Ron designed and built this library mostly from repurposed materials. Nancy's dad, Larry Hacker, was the person who first informed us about declining bee populations. The style of our beehive stand is called a Bee Hacker.

Ruth	Bumpstead	14805	23 Primrose St Maryborough, Vic 3465		Maryborough			The Mini Free Library is in the House! The Mini Free Library at the Maryborough Community House was officially launched during Families Week on the 20th May 2014 at the Maryborough Community House. The launch had an Alice in Wonderland theme, with a storyteller, activities for children and, of course, a mad-hatters tea party for afternoon tea! The 2014 theme for Families Week is 'Stronger Families, Stronger Communities' and aims to highlight the important role families play as the central building block of our communities. This is the perfect theme for launching a great community asset such as the Mini Free Library, as books and literacy also play an important role in enhancing family and community life. Maryborough's Mini Free Library takes an unique and creative form as it was designed by some children who attend the Community House. Their design was then brought to life with the skilful and talented assistance of Art Central and members of the community. The Mini Free Library will be installed outside the Community House, so that everybody who wants to use it can! Inside the library there will be books for little ones and books for grown-ups, as well as magazines. People are asked to return the books after they have borrowed them, so that everyone gets the chance to choose something they like. The very first books to fill the shelves will be chosen by local families in the area. Children's Literacy Facilitator, Lisa D'Onofrio said "Evidence shows that easy physical access to appropriate reading materials has a positive impact on children's verbal abilities." The Mini Library is part of the Literacy Strategy which involves placing book boxes throughout the Shire. The book boxes were made by the Men's Shed, and decorated by members of the supported playgroups, as well as other community groups, in conjunction with Art Central. They not only provide access to books for kids and grownups, but give out the message that this community believes that books and reading are important. Community groups are soon to be taking over the monitoring of the boxes, so that they become self-sustainable in the future. "The boxes and Mini Library give a clear message that the shire supports literacy, as well offering a practical way to encourage children and families to engage with books and reading." Lisa D'Onofrio said. You will find Mini Free Libraries all over the world, however Maryborough's is the first in Central Victoria, and one of the few in Australia that are not in front of a private house. And of course, our one is definitely unique! Lisa D'Onofrio Children's Literacy Facilitator 0401097599 lisad@cgoldshire.vic.gov.au
Michelle	Murray	16573	4458 Harp Dr.		Linden		Billy Murray	I have taken my daughter to 3 of the little free library in our area. My daughter said "mom we should make one for the kids too"! She loves to read & wanted to make sure other kids could come get a book & have fun reading too! My husband, daughter, & I all painted it & put on our finishing touches. My husband built the roof! We were all set to go, now the kiddos can enjoy a book & a bookmark! Our daughter is so proud of this & loves seeing all the kids come get a book!

Marleen	Meulders van Hees	112233	Spoorven 13		Veghel			In Veghel, op Spoorven 13, bevindt zich deze charmante minibieb. Het enige doel ervan: zoveel mogelijk mensen in de gelegenheid stellen een nieuw verhaal te krijgen, gratis, maar wel in ruil voor een boek. Dus: een boek brengen en eentje meenemen. Veel leesplezier!!
