

Impact Library Program

Placing Little Free Libraries where they're needed most

Little Free Library's Impact Library Program places book exchanges where they can be a catalyst for improving reading motivation and deepening community connectedness.

The Impact Library Program is made possible by individual donors and partner organizations who share a vision for spreading the joy and power of sharing books. Additional dollars for the Impact Library Program come from Little Free Library's retail sales and Library registration fees.

Donate to the Impact Library Program

You can help place Libraries where they can make a difference! When you donate to the Impact Library Program, your contribution will be used to place Libraries in the hands of committed stewards in locations where they can have meaningful outcomes. An application review process and installation follow-up establishes a connection between Library recipients and the Little Free Library community.

Apply to receive an Impact Library

Are you personally excited about bringing a Little Free Library into your community? Do you see how a Library would make books available to budding readers, or give neighbors who don't know one another a reason to connect? Are you in a rural setting or an urban location where there just isn't the quantity or variety of books needed, even though the local public schools and libraries are doing the best they can? If you answer yes, you're invited to apply for a no-cost Impact Library.

We knew from the start that a Little Library would help us with our 'Rise Up Plan' in a neighborhood with high levels of arrests, runaways, theft, and violence ... We feel the Library has been a beacon of light in our neighborhood! It gives us a reason to talk to people walking by. We are eliminating fear and instilling trust!

"I live in an area of Columbus, Ohio, where you can hear gunshots at night and find used bullets on the sidewalk ... this Impact Little Library has been a way to connect the neighborhood. Now my neighbors are talking outside the Library when they're grabbing books. I'm noticing books are going into peoples' hands and it's an overall tool bringing the neighborhood together!" - Anya Trujillo

The Chitina Village residents are the happy recipients of an Impact Little Free Library! They put the Library outside the community hall, where everyone can use it ... it provides books to remote areas of the community. When opening the box one girl exclaimed, 'Oh, I've always wanted one of these here!'
