Aileen Flores

Aileen Flores (she/her) has been a Little Free Library Steward since December 2021. She has worked in the communications, community affairs and government relations field for more than 15 years. Being a steward enables her to use her event planning and community outreach experience to promote reading and the Little Free Library program in her community.

Trish Turner

Trish Turner (she/her) lives in a 221-year old farm house in the mountains of Vermont in a region known as the Northeast Kingdom. Her little town of Newark is a pretty magical place, and the Little Library of Maple Ridge gets lots of visitors of all ages. She is a graduate of the University of Vermont, and developed a lifelong love of literature as the daughter of a librarian and an English professor.

Marion Waldman

Marion Waldman (she/her), Founder/Executive Director, started Teach My Kid to Read in response to her struggles navigating the education system and obtaining reading services for her daughter. Marion believes in a world where librarians, parents/guardians, educators, and anyone interested in literacy education can help children learn to read using the approach to literacy proven to help most children learn to read. Libraries are where people go to read, and Marion believes that everyone who goes to a library should have access to books that they can read independently.

Marion recommends: The Overstory by Richard Powers
